Rules for Proper Display of Flag

There are certain fundamental rules which if understood generally, would indicate the proper method of displaying the flag. The matter becomes a very simple one if it is kept in mind that the national flag represents the living country and is itself considered a living thing. The union of the flag is the honor point; the right arm is the sword arm, and therefore the point of danger and hence the place of honor.

When displaying the flag horizontally or vertically against a wall the blue field would be uppermost, and to the flag's own right—that is to the observer's left. When we look at the flag, it should read "Stars and Stripes," never "Stripes and Stars," that is, the stars in the blue field should come first, and at the highest point. On Memorial day, May 30th, the flag is displayed at half-staff from sunrise until noon and at full staff from noon until sunset; for the nation lives and the flag is the symbol of the living nation.

If you talk about ill-health, it will make you less healthy.

If you worry about your work, it will make you less capable.

If you imagine you are disliked, it will make you less likable.

If you find fault with others, it will make them faultier.

If you anticipate evils, you will be sure to bring them upon you.

If you talk much of what you are going to do, the chances are you will never do it.

If you sit bemoaning the past, you will never get on in the future.

If you complain of lack of opportunities, you will miss those that are yours.—A.

MRS. STONER LOVED PIONEER

May 5—1920

Mrs. Hattie Stoner, wife of Michel F. Stoner of North Liberty, passed away at her home, on Wednesday morning, May 5, about 12:30 o'clock, after an illness of many years, but following a serious illness of only about one month. Mrs. Stoner suffered from a bronchial asthmatic affection, which seemed not to yield to treatment, but grew more aggravated year by year.

Through all her sickness, she was an excellent example of patience and forbearance. She was a woman of estimable Christian character, and was respected most highly by all who knew her.

She was one of six children born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wesley Bowman, who came as early pioneers from Ohio to Johnson county. She was born in the community where she spent her life, on October 28, 1855, and was 64 years, 6 months, and 6 days, when she died.

She was united in marriage with Michael F. Stoner of North Liberty on November 7, 1872. To this union there were four children born, of whom Mrs. C. W. Lininger, North Liberty; Martin E. Stoner of Albert Lea, Minn.; and John W. Stoner of North Liberty survive. There also survive eight grandchildren and two brothers and two sisters—J. C. Bowman of North Liberty; Mrs. U. S Files, North Liberty; Mrs. O. L. Foster, Letts, Iowa; and H. E. Bowman of North Liberty.

Mrs. Stoner was brought up under the influence of religious parents and at the early age of 13 years she was converted, baptized and united with the Church of God at North Bend, near North Liberty. In the fellowship of this church she maintained a commendable record and was in continuous good standing until the time of her death. She was a good women with a faith alwawys strong, patient, trustful and hopeful. She stamped her character indelibly upon loved ones in and around her home. She will be greatly missed by all who knew her.

The funeral services were conducted from the Church of God at North Bend, near North Liberty, by Rev. Thos. M. Funk of Ida Grove, Iowa, a former pastor of Mrs. Stoner on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

DIED—Mrs. Sarah E. Bowman this morning at 2:15 o'clock at the residence of her son-in-law, W. S. Files, in Madison township. The deceased was past 68 years old at the time of her death She died of typhoid pneumonia. The funeral services will take place tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock from the Bethel church in North Bend.

WOODEN WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lininger Celebrate Fifth Anniversary of Married Life.

Half Hundred Guests Participate in Joyous Event at Hospitable Rural Home.

The fifth anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lininger's wedding was celebrated Monday, Dec. 29, at their rural home.

Seldom has an event as delightful occurred in the community in which these esteemed pioneers reside.

Nearly 70 relatives and immediate friends were permitted to share in the pleasures of the day and all will take delight hereafter in speaking words of praise for the entertainment.

The day was an ideal one, and long before noon the guests began to pour in, and old neighbors and friends of early days enjoyed the following social hours immensely.

The dinner seemed to be prepared as the lumber for shipbuilding is secured down in Maine—by the mile, and made to order. The sumptuous feast met the approval of old and young alike. Many useful and valuable presents were bestowed upon the genial host and hostess, and, finally the guests took their departure, with best wishes for Mr. and Mrs. Lininger and hoping that it may be their privilege to enjoy with the worthy couple many more equally happy anniversaries.

"No regiment from Iowa was more heroic than the 6th, which wrote a glorious chapter in the military history of the Hawkeye state." So declares one of the Iowa war department's official records.

Eulogistic reports on the achievements of that organization, during the Civil war, were filed by Brigadier General William Sooy Smith, Lieutenant Colonel John Corse, Captain John Williams, commanding; and Colonel John A. McDowell, among other officers, who led the Sixth in its brave deeds on numerous battlefields.

The part that the defenders of the flag and the Union, who went from Iowa City and various townships in Johnson county played was large. Their names appear often in the extremely large casualty roster of the Iowa regiments, as filed at Des Moines, and in Washington, D. C.

The enrollment of the Sixth totaled 1221, and there were 973 casualties. These included 109 killed; 353 wounded; died of wounds, 31; and captured, 59. The regiment was mustered into the service July 6, 1861, at Burlington. John A. McDowell, of Keokuk, was the colonel; Markoe Cummins, of Muscatine, lieutenant colonel; and John M. Corse, the future colonel, major.

The warriors participated in engagements at Kenesaw Mountain, Dallas, Big Shanty, Jackson, Black Ridge, Missionary Ridge, Resaca, Jones', Ford, and Shiloh, among others. Historians aver that the Sixth's losses were greater than those of any other Hawkeye regiment. The unit was at the front a little more than four years, and was mustered out at Louisville, Ky., July 21, 1865, about three months after the assassination of President Lincoln.

The somber story of the part played by Iowa City and Johnson county soldiers reveals that George W. Ford, of Iowa City, was killed at Cedar Town, Ga.; Timothy Holmes, of North Liberty, at Hope Church, Ga.; Srgt. Lorenzo D. Prather, of Iowa City, at Shiloh, and David Moreland, North Liberty, at Shiloh. Fatal wounds were inflicted on Duane Dupont, of Iowa City; and George Reedy, of Iowa City, died of wounds inflicted at Shiloh. First Lieutenant Samuel J. Plymesser, among those wounded, suffered twice, at Missionary Ridge, Tenn., and at Kenesaw Mountain.

Other Johnson county victims of wounds were Srgt. Casper S. Troutman, North Liberty, near Atlanta, Ga.; Corporal Jacob Will, Iowa City, at Shiloh; Captain James J. Jordan, Iowa City, at Kenesaw Mountain; Srgt. William Lambert, of Windham, at Griswoldville, Ga.; Lieutenant Colonel Alexander J. Miller, Iowa City, at Dallas, Ga.; George A. Miller, North Liberty; Sergeant Charles Bilba, Resaca, Ga.; Corporal Thomas A. Clark, Iowa City (honorably discharged, because of his injuries, and Enoch Davis, Iowa City.

Captured by rebels were Willi

Ayers, of Iowa City, near Grand Springs, Ala.; William Yingling, or Zingling, Iowa City, subsequently discharged for disability and Corporal Charles Nickerman, at Shiloh.

Death claimed numerous local soldiers, off the battlefield. Among these were James J. Davis, Iowa City; Henry H. Goud, North Liberty; William Lininger, Daniel Jones, and Benjamin Ramsay, North Liberty. Because of disabilities, the following received honorable discharges: James H. White, Ebenezer Roberts, Corporal Wm. B. Fracker, Horace N. Banks, all of Iowa City; and Charles Dalton, Solon; Corporal Jonas P. Clark, Calvin H. Bane, North Liberty, who subsequently re-enlisted, joining the 22nd Iowa; Corporal Thomas Crozier, North Liberty; John Hileman, Iowa City; and William Gould, North Liberty.

"Now, Henry, you'll never get the car started if you keep flyin' off the handle like that!"

A FACT A DAY ABOUT IOWA CITY

LABOR DIGNIFIED

"Dignity of labor" and the "glory of God" were familiar phrases to Jacob Lininger in bygone days, and he was an exponent of both. Long years before he became an elder in the Church of God, in Johnson county, he was a poor lad in Pennsylvania. He was born in Cumberland county in that state 112 years ago. His father died when Jacob was a child of three, and, at 15, the lad worked for his board and lodgings, and attended school three months—and that was the extent of his education in school rooms. Reading and study, in the years that followed to manhood and old age, made him the possessor of knowledge, beyond the gifts of many men, however. As a boy, Jacob Liniger worked by the day and month, in Pennsylvania, and sought to learn the blacksmith's trade, after he was 16, but the smoke of the coal produced ill effects, and he was compelled to desist. He was married at 18, in the Quaker state, to Miss Elizabeth Monismith, of his native county, and to them, in the course of time, 11 children were born.

Mr. Lininger removed to Indiana, in 1840, and preached there in Blair, Huntington and Bedford counties, nine years, whereupon he came to Johnson county, where he lived and served the remainder of his life, passing away in Penn township, the fine farm passing, by sale, to Jacob, Jr., and Joseph Lininger, his sons, following his second marriage, in 1880, to Mrs. Elizabeth Doner. When Mr. Lininger came to Johnson county, he owned but 30 dollars, as the foundation of his future fortune. The winter following his coming, he prepared to toil anew, to raise sufficient cash to pay for the land he entered, after his arrival here. All that he had paid on it originally was the tiny sum above mentioned.

In pursuit of his purpose, the energetic preacher hewed 12,000 fence rails and stakes, and thus earned the money with which to pay for the realty.

He took possession in 1853, but continued to preach, receiving the honor of the eldership of the Church of God. He was in charge of seven counties, including Johnson, and preached as many as 18 times in a single week. One wonders what the Twentieth Century clergyman would think of that—unless he be a revivalist, and used to it. After this remarkable service, Mr. Lininger devoted his time and labor to farming, but also served as a local preacher in the Church of God.

Five "49-ers"

Gold-seeking Argonauts, determined to probe the depths of stores of hidden gold in the Californian Eldorado, were known to the world as "'49-ers", when their adventurous souls led them to the Pacific Coast, 103 years ago.

Those oldtime fortune hunters (and the phrase is not used derogatorily) were not afraid to trek across the arid desert plains of the far west; of mountain heights, snow-capped; of Indians, bent on massacre and bloodshed; of cold or heat; or exposure and starvation.

Their adventures are an integral part of mid-century history of Iowa, a relatively new state of the time. Without peril, but with the thrills of friendship, reunion, and reminiscence, another group of "'49-ers", one of an entirely different type, assembled nearly 40 years ago, at the home of Samuel Lininger, a pioneer justice of the peace, a longtime resident of North Liberty.

Five men were in the little party in question. They were the host and four of his long-time friends. When they met, they were not exactly celebrating five birthdays, but they may have done so, in that each became 66 years of age, about the same time.

The quintet included Samuel Lininger, Nicholas Zeller, Jr., C. D. Hawk, John W. Green, and the Rev. L. F. Chamberlain—all born in 1849. The host and at least two of his guests were linked with the religious life of Madison township.

Mr. Hawk, the other, was the son of Jonathan Hawk, an elder in the Church of God, a post held, also, by Jacob Lininger, Samuel's father. The Rev. Mr. Chamberlain was a preacher of great influence in the community.

Apropos of fortune-seeking if Jacob Lininger had sought a material fortune, fortified by his riches of faith, when he came west from Pennsylvania, it would not have been surprising. He possessed just $30 "to his name," when he reached Iowa City.

He pre-empted government land and used that "fortune" in payment. During his first winter, he felled many trees, hewing 12,000 stakes, which provided the remainder of the purchase price. As an elder, however, beginning about the time Iowa City was chartered by the legislature (1853) he devoted three weeks to each of seven counties—delivering 18 sermons in each "pastorate."

Mr. Zeller's father was a Pennsylvania surveyor and school teacher. He, too, early entered land in Johnson county, while temporarily here. With $17 in his wallet, as his sole worldly wealth, he returned to the Quaker State (with only 40 cents of it remaining.) Both men ultimately prospered as pioneer farmers, and the same may be said of all of the men in the reunion of five "'49-ers."

As the senior Lininger filled an eldership for seven counties, Mr. Zeller's political constituents liked "seven", also, and they made him a member of the board of supervisors for seven years. The trek from Pennsylvania was made by the Chamberlains in 1840, and by the Hawks, in 1847.

They came by "prairie schooners" or kindred vehicles. The families of the other three "steamboated" Iowaward on the Ohio and Mississippi. The quintet, their elders, and their descendants were factors in building North Liberty (or "North Bend," if you prefer) Madison township, and Johnson county.

The first of the reunionites to be called Beyond was Samuel Lininger, who passed away before the Christmas that followed their joint "birthday celebration."

A Fact a Day About Iowa City

Rugged Preacher

Did any reader ever duplicate the feat of Abraham Lincoln — not in rising from a backwoodsman to the presidency of the United States, but as a "hewer of wood and a drawer of water," especially as to the wielding of an excellently-edged axe? Doubtless, he did not.

Printed 1-17-59

However, one Johnson county pioneer did approach, in a certain measure, that duplication. He was the Rev. Jacob Lininger of the Church of God. Long a resident of North Liberty, he came to Iowa City nearly 100 years ago as a child of three, he had lost his father in his home state, Pennsylvania.

Life wasn't easy for a long time after that. He grew to young manhood, becoming the possessor of such "book-larnin'" as could be acquired by way of three months' school experience. As a self-made man, he was also a self-educated one.

Preaching may be far-removed from rail-splitting, but Mr. Lininger knew much of both. By 1853, he had earned by toil a pioneer living, and he had saved the enormous sum of $30. This he applied on his first piece of Johnson county realty, which he secured under governmental pre-emption laws. The remainder of the cost price he earned by splitting rails. In all, he thus severed from the native timber, 12,000 stakes.

As a local preacher, he was not without experience, as he had preached in several Pennsylvania counties, before he came here. He married in his native county, Cumberland, and was the father of 11 children by his first wife.

In the Church of God, he served as an elder, in Johnson county. He was a missionary to our pioneers, as Sunday sermons locally delivered were not his sole ecclesiastical oratory. He achieved a phenomenal record of serving six Iowa counties simultaneously, in a sense, besides Johnson. In the seven, he preached regularly for a lengthy period. Such service spelled at least 18 sermons a week. Could a famous revivalist, a Sunday or a Graham, do more?

Ultimately the worthy Johnson county pioneer, with this record of service in Pennsylvania, and in Iowa, devoted himself to farming in Penn township acres. He did not abandon preaching entirely, however, and as a church officer, he delivered sermons in Johnson county, ever and anon, as he prospered otherwise.

A Variegated Trip

"Voyaging" on the "Robert Fulton," whose predec navigation) was the experience of at least one Jo county pioneer. The worthy old settler noted was Valentine Myers, who came to Iowa, Johnson county, and Madison township, in 1846. Of course, even that date did not spell the placing of her name on the roster of the very earliest of our pioneers, inasmuch as the territory of Iowa was then a few years old.

Mrs. Myers (the former Mary Green, daughter of David Green, a Pennsylvania pioneer) became distinguished as one of the very few women to become the mother of two sets of twins, by successive marriages.

The worthy lady was born in William Penn's state 126 years ago. She was privileged — if numerous changes in traveling conveyances spell "favors"—to feature her voyage and journey thus: She started from Cumberland county, Pa., her place of nativity, in an ancient wagon —of the "covered schooner" type, or otherwise, and it trundled roughly over the Blue Mountains. Next, she embarked in a canal boat, which carried her from Newport to Pittsburgh, except for that fraction of the trip which a railway traversed.

In Andrew Carnegie's smoke-chimneyed town, she boarded a steamboat which puffed down the Ohio river. Thence she was transferred to the Mississippi river, and proudly the "Robert Fulton" carried her up the Father of Waters to St. Louis. Once more a passenger in a wagon, she completed her journey to Iowa—after following the Mississippi river from St. Louis to Muscatine, on the steamer that honored the one invented nearly 150 years ago.

When Mrs. Myers reached Iowa's "Pearl City", as indicated, the oldtime wagon in which her lengthy, novel trip was finished, carried her to Iowa City. Thus, the ancient journey, one p

A Fact A Day About Iowa City

Two Sets of Twins

printed Jan. 1949

Twins and triplets have been mentioned herein. No exceptional novelty attaches to the coming of two, but the arrival of three children at the same time, is unusual, although not unique.

The family Bible that records the birth of twins twice to a loving mother provides a peg whereon to hang a true story of striking interest, however. Such a mother was Mrs. Mary Green Stover-Myers. Her first husband was Moses Stover, and to the couple came a son and daughter (twins) and another daughter.

One of the twin children, the boy, died in babyhood. Anna and Mary, his sisters, grew to womanhood. Their father was the third person to be laid to rest in the "North Bend" cemetery. Today, one says North Liberty.

Moses Stover passed away in 1850, and his widow re-married in 1851, her second husband being Valentine Myers. They were wed the same year that the bride united with the Church of God. To them, likewise came a "pair of twins." Martha and Samuel L. There were also five other children born to Mr. and Mrs. Myers. All of them, save one baby boy, grew to manhood and womanhood.

Their mother was one of the true pioneers of Johnson county, although she did not arrive here from the east until 1846. She was a native of Newton township, in Cumberland county, Pennsylvania, where she was born Sunday, September 3 in 1820.

She was married in 1846, the year she and Mr. Stover came to Iowa. She had been converted in 1841, and had joined the Disciples' church then, although, as noted above, she allied herself with the Church of God in her new western home. The pioneers of Johnson county, who traveled far to reach their little farms in a wilderness (often their acres being secured directly from Uncle Sam) learned the hardships, sacrifices, and laboriousness of "ancient" modes of travel.

Mary Green [illegible] no exception. For example, they left West Hill, [illegible] Cumberland county (a hamlet [illegible] easy to discover in today's ga[illegible]eers) in an oldtime Pennsyl[illegible] wagon, crossed the Blue [illegible] Mountains, a link in the Ap[illegible]lian chain to land at Newport [illegible] step in a long journey [illegible]ely ended near, a coin-to Muscatine. The "Pearl City" was then known as "Bloomington", of course, and it was the birthplace of one of Iowa City's first newspapers, the Standard, which became the Republican of more modern times, having come to the old capital from there.

They were aboard the "Robert Fulton", to St. Louis, and the "St. Croix", to Muscatine. Their sixth change in this diversified traveling was a wagon ride to Iowa City.

Valentine Myers, Mary Green's second husband, was born in her native county, 120 years ago. He was teacher and a farmer, his instructional service being brief; and his farming covering a period of long years, on his fine Madison township farm. He was a Republican and a Church of God brother.

Penn Township Quarry

"Frost-proof stone" may be a name more familiar to commercial circles and to old-time contractors than to the laity. It was much-used in Johnson county's early building days. The "North Bend frost-proof stone" gave it publicity and popularity, among pioneer carpenters and masons. The phrase referred to the ability of the Penn township quarry product to resist Jack Frost's attacks. Many kinds of stone would actually freeze and thus lose their powers of endurance and durability. Perhaps some of the ancient basements in Iowa City contains stones from that very section to this day, assuming such "relics of antiquity" are still in existence, in rare cases.

Nicholas Zeller, senior, who came to Iowa in 1846, from Pennsylvania, and went back to Pennsylvania temporarily — starting with $17, and arriving with 40 cents—was the owner of most of the fine quarries, as one of the "foundations" of his future fortune. However, his first quarry, which began operations in 1849, was antedated a few years by George Wein's. Mr. Wein came convenient or not, here between 1838 and 1840. He later opened Mr. Zeller's. W. P. Doty, an Iowa City pioneer, was the expert in charge of the initial Wein quarry.

Penn township pioneers have declared that the first postmaster of North Liberty — a name more familiar than the nearly abandoned "North Bend" — built the first house in the town, after Francis Bowman and his wife, Margaret, and Patrick Murphy and his wife, Anna, yielded their lands to the needs of the town, in October, 1857, when the village was platted.

The first white person buried in North Liberty's "God's Acre" was a child of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wray. This cemetery was known as the Wein cemetery, solemnly honoring the family above noted. Elder Michael T. Snavely who came here from Pennsylvania, in 1848; Elder Jacob Lininger, another leader in led in Johnson county about 1849, after leaving Pennsylvania, where he had filled permanent and improvised pulpits during the period of nearly 10 years, beginning his service in 1840. While thus engaged, he preached to hundreds in Blair, Bedford, and Huntingdon counties, and, possibly, in his old home county, Cumberland. He had wed in that county, (March 28, 1835) and his wife gave him 11 children, as the years rolled on. She died later and in 1880 he was re-married.

In Johnson county, as a Penn township preacher and otherwise, he was widely known. He was a man of extraordinary energy, in his religious service. Made an elder in the Church of God, he seemed indefatigable, as he covered seven counties, for a number of years—with a record few clergymen of today can duplicate. For a time, he delivered 18 sermons every week. After this active work, which might have overwhelmed many a man, he resumed his farming in this county, and passed the remainder of his life in Penn. Even after yielding his district service to other Church of God ministers, he continued to serve as a provincial preacher, fostering the same cause.

Jacob Lininger settled on his earliest Johnson county tract in 1853, having entered it almost on the proverbial "shoestring," in the early '50's. He had but $30 "to his name," in cash, and not much of other wordly goods when he came here. This sum, he applied on the pre-empty realty, and earned the remainder of the cost price during a winter of real toil. Like the immortal Lincoln, he was a rail-splitter then. He hewed out 12,0 stakes and fence rails for the need money.

Travel Discomforts

Travel and transportation of household goods were not "picnics", to Iowa City pioneers even as late as 1852. Indeed, before the Rock Island reached "the Athens of Iowa", settlers from the east faced many trials and tribulations, even in their original home towns and counties.

James Bridenstine, a pioneer of the mid-century, who was born in Pennsylvania, and came here in 1852, could, and did, testify convincingly, as to that fact. Mr. Bridenstine's native county was Bedford in the Quaker state, but he was residing in Blair county, where he was a carpenter and wagon-maker, when he decided to follow the Horace Greeley well-born slogan: "Go west, young man."

Therefore, he and his first wife, the former Susan Hoover (one wonders whether she was a kinswoman of the famous Iowa-born president) adopted the methods of the first lustrum of the 1850s—since there was naught else to do, really. They packed their "Lares et Penates" in a wagon, unloaded them into a freight car by way of an inclined plane, and then traveled as far as a canal line, where a boat took over the Bridenstine chattels. That meant transferring as far as Pittsburgh by water.

From the "Smoky City," the little party, boarding an oldtime steamboat, one nearly of the type that taught Samuel L. Clemens to cry "Mark twain," and there-changes in acreage values since the earlier years is given by the fact that land for which he later paid $18 to $30, brought $90 an acre, when John Lininger purchased it from Mr. Bridenstine, and $125 an acre, when the new owner sold it to George G. Ranshaw, of Penn, a son of Samuel, a pioneer official.

James Bridenstine was twice wed. His second wife was Mrs. John Bane, widow of a Civil war hero, who gave his life for his country. In church circles, Mr. Bridenstine was a member of the Church of God, back in Pennsylvania, and was a pillar of Bethel church in Penn, which he served as elder and deacon. He filled numerous Madison township official posts, also. —J. E. R.

A Fact A Day About Iowa City

North Bend Church

"Long hauls" and "short hauls" are two familiar phrases in railroad and industrial circles. When certain Iowa City pioneers heard those paired words—and paired pairs—first, it was more than 94 years ago, and they had a deeper significance than railroading and manufacturing could give them.

As a matter of fact, industry was involved at the time, in question, but so were piety, religious life, and civic enterprise. It was during 1853, and the devout Methodists of North Liberty and Penn township were the active participants in a forward-looking, community-building enterprise. That was the erection of the first church the village and township could boast.

The application of the quoted phrases came, when the leaders in the movement sought lumber for their frame structure. That material could not be secured in Iowa City, or sawed here. Consequently, local oxen were yoked and driven across country to Muscatine (then known as "Bloomington") and then were driven back, with the wagons behind them well-laden with Mississippi river timberland's product.

While the church was organized as early as the autumnal days of 1841, the society being styled, as was the custom in that era, a "class" (the North Bend Class, in point of fact,) the building was not started until 1853. The finishing touches were put on it two years later. The dedicatory sermon was preached in 1855, by the Rev. George B. Bowman, a pioneer pastor of the Iowa City Methodist church society, and a principal factor in the building of the Iowa City church building, itself, in the early 1840s.

(To achieve that end, the Rev. Mr. Bowman had gone to the New England states and elsewhere East, and had secured $4,000 for the cause. The Rev. J. L. Thompson was the pastor in Iowa City, during the interim, until the successful solicitor returned.)

The list of the first personnel of the "North Bend" church reads as if it were a "family Bible" page. The charter members were Jacob H. and Mary Alt; their daughter, Maria Alt; Wray, William and Jane Alt, and George and Mary Wein.

The Penn society, like so many other pioneer institutions—and babies—was born in a log cabin. The first pastor of the North Bend institution was the Rev. C. Woolsey. His successors, in the order named, during the following two decades, were the Rev. Mr. Banford, the Rev. Mr. Hestwood, and the Revs. William Postan, J. B. Hill, J. Carey, J. A. Wilson, S. H. Thomas, J. M. Coates, J. Wild, F. C. Garretson, J. Hillhouse, D. Murphy, G. W. Rawlings, A. V. Francis, and D. C. Bevan.

The next oldest church in the life of Penn was the Church of God, organized in 1847, by John and Catharine Kepford, Jonathan and Catharine Hawk, and Henry and Susannah Bechtel. The worshipers ultimately built two pioneer churches (in 1856 and 1868, respectively.) The post bellum structure cost $4,000, a tidy sum, for a church, 79 years ago.

The earliest pastors were the Revs. E. Logue, J. Lininger, M. F. Snavely. A. J. Fenton, and D. Gill. The dedication date was Sunday, October 18, 1868. The dedicator was Elder H. L. Soule. —J. E. R.

Cyrus L. Stoner, aged 40, died very suddenly at his home in North Liberty, at 11 o'clock yesterday morning.

He has been afflicted with paralysis, complicated with other ailments for a considerable time, but felt particularly well yesterday morning. He had undergone an operation very recently, having had a piece of his palate removed.

Just before his sudden demise, he was lying on the bed, with his head partly uplifted, resting upon his hand Suddenly he threw his hand to his throat, exclaiming:

"It feels as if it were swelling." Then he seemed to succumb to the invisible power, and fell over in the throes of death. In a few minutes he expired.

He leaves a wife, one son and five daughters to mourn his death. He was born and raised in this county, being a son of John Stoner, one of our pioneers. He was universally respected and will be greatly missed by the community.

The funeral will occur at Bethel Church in North Liberty tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock. 1896

Mr. Henry Lininger and Miss Maggie Lackey, of Madison township were married a couple weeks since, and took a wedding tour to the west, Nebraska and Colorado. On their return home Friday evening they were called on by about forty friends, led by the North Liberty martial band, and while the visitors were somewhat given to a vivacious musical programme, they were heartily welcomed. Mr. and Mrs. Lininger will make their home in Madison where they have hearty reception. 1887

The death of Mrs. J. Green, an old—a very old—settler of Johnson county, occurred suddenly, Saturday, at North Liberty. The funeral took place Sunday. She leaves two grown sons, Samuel and John W. Green, and three married daughters, Mesdames Jacob, Joseph and Samuel Lininger. The deceased was past the scripturally allotted age, being almost four score years old when she passed away.

GREEN.—Near North Liberty, Johnson Co., Iowa, Elizabeth Green, wife of Bro. John Green, Sr.

Sister Green had been a member of the church at North Bend, Ia., for probably about thirty years, and during that time lived an exemplary Christian life. Her steps were ordered of God. A chaste conversation and godly walk adorned her profession daily, to others around her shedding a benign influence continually.

Mother Green was a great help in the church and family. She leaves a husband and a family, all professing godliness and on her way rejoicing from earth to heaven. May the God of all grace and comfort sustain the family in this their hour of affliction.

The funeral services by the pastor, assisted by Elder J. Lininger. J. S. MILLER.

Happy Wedding.

(For the Republican.)

North Liberty, Ia. Jan. 17th 1892.—On Jan. 14, 1892, at the well-known and handsome residence of our esteemed citizen, Mr. J. P. Lininger, two hearts were made one, the contracting parties—the bride, the esteemed and beautiful daughter of Mr. J. P. Lininger and Mr. Harvey E Smith of Sioux Co., Ia. The effective marriage ceremony was pronounced by Elder J. S. Miller, pastor of the "Church of God" at said place, the company comprising mostly the young people of North Bend. It was a most enjoyable time on the part of all present. After the ceremony and congratulations, which occurred at 12 o'clock, noon, a most sumptous feast await all the guests. Such a meal as in our judgment would have satisfied the most fastidious in their tastes and appetites. Mrs. J. P. Lininger the mother of the bride, is noted for her exquisite taste and matured judgment in providing such a bountiful repast. Upon the part of all the verdict was universal: all were satisfied to the full capacity of their unbounded satisfaction.

The bride and groom were the recipients of many valuable gifts, among which were: Mr and Mrs Samuel Lininger, two sets of goblets, Miss Lizzie Yearick, of Iowa City, set of No. 1 pie plates, Mr and Mrs Daniel Green, castor, Miss Lilly Green, cream pitcher, Mr and Mrs Samuel Green, set of cups and saucers, Mr and Mrs Francis Zeigler

PIONEER DIES AT AGE OF 76

Death has claimed another pioneer, Mr. James Monroe Files.

He was born in Richland county, Ohio, but passed most of his life in Johnson county, being 76 years of age, on July 5, 1921. He came here 68 years ago. This morning at 1:20, at his home, 720 7th avenue, the end came, after an illness since Christmas, the ails attendant upon old age being his affliction.

The funeral will take place at North Liberty, from the Methodist church, Monday, at 10 A. M.

Mr. Files was widely known throughout the community, and a large circle of oldtime friends will mourn his death. He was a good man, worthy of the respect and esteem in which he was held. Surviving are his four sons and three daughters, Charles, of Mason City; J. Ray Files, Fort Dodge (S. U. I., 1905); Wayne, Iowa City; and Leo St. Paul; and Mesdames S. D. Foster, Mt. Zion, Iowa; and George Simmons, Iowa City; and Miss Stella Files, at home.

MYERS-MYERS WEDDING.

A very beautiful home wedding, the most elaborate that ever occurred in this part of our county, was that of Miss Anna Myers and Mr. S. A. Myers, residents of Penn and Madison townships, which occurred at the residence of the bride's parents, on Wednesday, February 18th, 1891, at 6 o'clock p. m. The house was tastefully decorated throughout, which evidenced the skill of Misses Iona and Ella, sisters of the bride. In the parlor, where the nuptial knot was tied, were the bride's parents and relations and the sitting room was filled to overflowing with the friends of the contracting parties. Elder C. L. Wilson made them husband and wife by a short but appropriate ceremony, after which the usual congratulations were offered by over fifty guests. The presents consisted of furniture, carpets, lamps and many other useful articles. The party then repaired to the large dining room where there were two long tables which fairly groaned beneath the load of rich delicacies. For varieties of cake and many other good things the repast has never been excelled in this part of our county. After this came the social entertainment which lasted until 11 o'clock, at which time the guests departed for their homes, and on the early train Thursday morning the bride and groom started on a wedding trip to Chicago. On their return they will attend several receptions, after which they will settle down on the old homestead of the groom's parents which he lately bought of his father. Our wish is that they may live long and enjoy prosperity.

A GUEST.

RAMSEY—RINEHART.—July 16, 1890, at the residence of the officiating minister near North Liberty, Johnson county, Iowa, by Elder J. Lininger, Mr. Harry Ramsey and Seda Rinehart, both of Madison township, Johnson county, Iowa.

BEALER.—At North Liberty, Johnson county, Iowa, July 1, 1889, Sister Ellen Bealer, aged 28 years, 10 months and 19 days.

Her maiden name was Green. She was married to Henry Bealer Dec. 2, 1879. She leaves a husband, one daughter, father and mother, three brothers and four sisters to mourn their loss; but they do not mourn without hope, for she was a good Christian woman. She gave her heart to God at the age of fourteen years. She expressed gratitude to God on her deathbed that she embraced Christ while in her youth. She lived a devoted, modest Christian life, and died in the full triumph of victory and hope of eternal blessedness. Funeral sermon by the writer, from Isa. iii. 10, to a large congregation. JACOB LININGER.

A Lively Runaway.

There was a savage runaway on College street, Wednesday afternoon, and several people came near death, or at least serious injury. A span of black horses attached to a load of straw, dashed down the hill and across the bridge; a block further the load was overturned. The horses hitched to the fore wheels, continued on, and running into Clinton street, were stopped in front of Pratt & Strub's store.

Phil Sbabala, with his wife and three other ladies, was returning to his home near Richmond from a visit with his brother in Iowa City. He was about half way across the bridge when the runaway team struck it. He barely succeeded in getting out of the road, and as it was, lost one of the hind wheels of his carriage. None of his party was injured.

Mrs. L. W. Andrews had just alighted from her cart when it was struck by the load of straw and completly demolished. The load was overturned at this point, and although the streets were full of people, no more damage was done.

The team belonged to M. Stoner, of North Liberty, and was in charge of a boy who left it for a moment at the top of College hill with the above result. One of the horses was badly cut. Fortunately no damage was done that can't be made good with money.

Funeral services for Mrs. Eula Bell Lininger were held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Shueyville church. She was born Feb. 5, 1886, and died at her home in Spooner, Wis., May 8, following a lingering illness of several months. She was well known in this vicinity as she taught school. On June 10, 1910 was married to Mr. Cree Lininger and lived here many years before moving to Spooner.

She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, Cree H. Lininger of Spooner, Wis., her mother, Mrs. Mollie Davis of Western, two brothers, Geo. Davis of Spooner, Wis., and Harry Davis at Chicago, Ill.

Burial was made in the Shueyville cemetery with the Rev. Hobson officiating.

Relatives and friends from here attending were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lininger and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lininger, Mrs. Bert Myers, Mrs. Mary Wray, Mrs. Sally Files, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Anderson, Mr. George

Glenn W. Stoner and Miss Inez Viola Cheadle, respectively, son of the late William Stoner, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cheadle, were united in marriage the night of the 19th, at the Ranshaw home, on the "old Crozier farm."

A Pretty Wedding Takes Place on the West Side.

From Thursday's Daily

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam P. Fry last evening at 8 o'clock occurred the marriage of their daughter, Jessie, to M. C. Stoner, of North Liberty. The wedding march, Mendelssohn, was played by Mrs. Hohman, accompanied by Prof. Berryhill. The couple, attended by Miss Edith Fry, maid of honor, and Miss Ethel Stillings, brides maid, tooktheir places beneath a beautiful decoration of smilax and drapery of pink and white. The bride was attired in a beautiful wash chiffon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. T. J. Dow of the Christian church.

A delicious supper was served, consisting of three courses, during which the sweet music was played by the orchestra.

One hundred guests participated in the festivities. Among the number present were:

Mrs. D. P. Grosscup and son, Harlan, of St. Paul. Many useful and beautiful articles were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Stoner by their many friends.

Mr. Stoner is a promising young farmer of Madison township, having been born and raised in this county. He is well known by all as a shrewd young business man. The bride is a charming young lady of West Lucas township, who lives 2½ miles west of Iowa City. All join in wishing them a long life of success and happiness. After Dec. 1 Mr. and Mrs. Stoner will be at home a few miles west of North Liberty.

Then a little later on and dinner was announced and this seemed to have been gotten up after the manner of getting the lumber for ship building down in Maine, by the mile, and made to order. The partaking of this sumptuous feast seemed to meet the approbation of young and old alike and all shared in it with a hearty relish. A large number of useful and valuable presents were bestowed upon mine genial host and hostess, and as the day began to wear to a close the guests one by one took their departure feeling that the day had indeed been one well spent, and in bidding adieu left only their best wishes for Mr. and Mrs. Lininger hoping that it may be their privilege to enjoy many more equally as happy, and

Obituary.

Elizabeth Lehman was born Aug. 23, 1823, in Cumberland county, Pa. She was married to John Stoner, January 6, 1846. To this union was born seven sons; two have preceded her to the spirit land; John L. died May 8, 1861, and C. L. died January 29, 1896. Wm. M. F. and M. L. live near her late home. George M. lives near Ceda Rapids and D. F. lives in California.

Our beloved sister leaves behind her to mourn, an aged companion who walked by her side for over fifty years, five sons, thirty grand children and two great grand children.

Sister Stoner embraced Christ as her Savior in October, 1850, was baptized by Elder M. F. Snavely and united with the Church of God in 1851. Sister Stoner lived a consistent Christian and without reproach until her death. She was quite unassuming in all her manners and walks of life, ever ready to help the needy, and administer to the sick. She, with her companion, was always ready to welcome the ministers of the gospel; indeed her home was a preacher's home. In the death of Mother Stoner the church sustains an irreparable loss, the relatives and neighbors have all lost a friend, indeed, but our loss is her eternal gain. She is gone but not forgotten.

Truthfully it can be said of her, that she could sing the language of the poet, "I love thy church, O God, Her walks before the stand, Dear as the apple of thine eye, And graven on thy hand."

Mother Stoner passed peacefully away on the 18th of October, 1896, aged 73 years, 1 months and 15 days. Funeral services were conducted by the writer in the presence of a large concourse of relatives and weeping friends.

Elder W. H. Hickman was assisted by W. C. Barclay and J. M. McClelland of the M E church. W. H. H.

Maxine Garrett And R. J. Stoner Wed

The marriage of Miss Maxine Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold W. Garrett of Cedar Rapids, and Ray J. Stoner, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Stoner of this city, was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Stoner left immediately after the ceremony for an extended motor trip east, following which they will return to Cedar Rapids to make their home.

Mrs. John Stoner Passed Away This Morning, Aged 84—Leaves Husband and Four Children

Mrs. Catherine Stoner, wife of John Stoner of North Liberty, died this morning at six o'clock, the cause of her death being infirmities of old age.

Mrs. Stoner was in her eighty-fifth year. She was born in Pennsylvania and early in life came to Iowa settling in Johnson County. She was married to Mr. John Stoner in 1961.

The funeral will be held at the residence in North Liberty, on Wednesday at 1 o'clock. Interment will be in North Liberty cemetery. Friends of the deceased will have an opportunity of viewing the body from 10 to 12 o'clock on Wednesday morning. The Rev. Paul H. Helsey, pastor of the North Liberty Lutheran church will conduct the funeral service.

Mrs. Stoner is survived by her husband and the following children: Wm. B. Von Stine of Fort Dodge, David S. Von Stine of North Liberty, [illegible] P. Von Stine of Kent, and Mrs. Catherine Alloway of Casey.

Mrs. John Stoner died at her home in North Liberty at 10:15 o'clock Sunday morning. The funeral will occur at Bethel church at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. She leaves a husband and 5 sons. With these worthy sons of a noble parent will mourn a host of friends won during the long years of a pioneer's life.

MRS. PAUL HERRING SUCCUMBS TUESDAY

Funeral Service Will Be Held Thursday

11-6-1928

Funeral of Mrs. Paul E. Herring, 38, who died Tuesday afternoon at her home in Madison township, will be held Thursday morning at the home at 10:30 o'clock, with the Rev. Mr. Heltebridle of North Liberty officiating. Burial will be in Ridgewood cemetery at North Liberty.

Mrs. Herring was born and reared in Madison township. She leaves her husband, four small children, her mother, Mrs. W. S. Files, of North Liberty, three brothers, Leo Files, of Columbus City, Ia., Will, of Iowa City, and Pearl, of North Liberty, and a sister, Mrs. J. W. Lininger of North Liberty.

OBITUARY

THE LATE JOHN STONER OF NORTH LIBERTY.

Jno. Stoner, the subject of this notice, was born in Cumberland Co., Penna. May 16th, 1826, and died in North Liberty, Iowa, December 19, 1914, having reached the age of 88 years, 7 months, and 3 days. He was married to Elizabeth Lehman Jan. 6, 1846, she dying Oct. 18, 1896.

To this union were born seven children, three of whom, W. H., John L., and Cyrus L., preceded him to the spirit world. M. F. and M. D. resided in Johnson Co., Iowa, Geo. M. in Cedar Rapids, and D. F. in California.

The deceased came to Iowa with his family in the year 1849. He learned the carpenter's trade, at which he worked in connection with his farm and was quite successful in both vocations. Mr. Stoner was also quite expert as a cabinet maker.

On Jan. 3 rd, 1909 he was united in marriage with Catherine Hoover, who died Jan. 16, 1913.

More than 60 years ago Mr. Stoner was converted and united with the church of God in whose fellowship he continued for many years. He no doubt made many mistakes in life as all men do, but he tried to live a faithful christian life. We feel assured that he died in the faith. We have the testimony of his own lips, that he was at peace with his Lo[illegible] and had implicit trust in his blessed Savior, whom he had tried to honor, and serve for more than 60 years, and whom he had found to be a friend that sticketh closer than a brother.

As every man makes mistakes so every man possesses many virtues; man looketh on the outward appearance, the mistakes, but the God of compassion and love looketh upon the heart, the virtues. Let men learn to see and magnify other men's virtues and minimize their failures, mistakes, and imperfections.

We believe Bro. Jno Stoner was a man of God with a faith stayed in Christ and a hope that anchored his soul to the throne of God, and may he rest in the city of eternal day, and perfect peace. His life in this community has contributed largely to the well being and happiness of his fellowmen in whose memory his life and works continue.

Will Celebrate Golden Wedding

3-17-1954

MR. AND MRS. JOHN V. STONER

Mr. and Mrs. John V. Stoner, 182 Fifteenth avenue SW, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon with an open house at the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ray J. Stoner, 1265 Hazel drive NE. Relatives and friends are invited to call from 2 to 5 p.m.

The former Etta Deitrich and Mr. Stoner were married March 8, 1904, by the Rev. Levi Stauffacher. They farmed south of Cedar Rapids in College township for 44 years. Since they retired and moved to Cedar Rapids nine years ago they have traveled extensively throughout the 48 states, Canada and Mexico. They have only the one son and one grandchild.

M. D. STONER DIES MONDAY

Pioneer Resident of This County Passes Away in Iowa City

Death claimed another Johnson county pioneer of high standing, when Mr. Marcus D. Stoner, the beloved father of Dr. Dayton Stoner of the University of Iowa faculty, passed away, Monday, at the home of his son.

The end was sudden and was due to an attack of acute indigestion.

The funeral services were held at the Harmon funeral home at 1 P. M., and an hour later, the exercises were conducted at the Methodist church in North Liberty. Rev. Dr. W. C. Keeler officiated.

Mr Stoner was born in North Liberty, on Feb. 16, 1858, and was 67 years, eight months, and ten days of age. He lived there all his life, save the last three years, when his home was made at Prof. Dayton Stoner's in Iowa City. He was a leading farmer for years. His late wife was Miss Nancy Koser. 10-26-1925

Surviving are two of their three children—Dr. Dayton Stoner, class of 1907, S. U. I. now of the faculty and Nellie Stoner, of Denver, Colo. to whom the community offers real sympathy.

Mr. Stoner was a valued member of the Methodist church, in Iowa City. His activities in the church were always noteworthy. He was prominent in the Sunday school and church work in North Liberty for many years, and his Christian character was exemplified in his clean, upstanding manhood, and laudable life.

LININGER.—Joseph Lininger died August 2, 1924, after an illness of several months, aged 70 years, 3 months and 14 days.

He was the son of Elder Jacob Lininger and Elizabeth Lininger. He was married to Maria Green September 26, 1878. He was born and lived on the Lininger homestead farm until he retired from active life a few years ago, his late home being in North Liberty, Iowa. He was converted and joined the church of God in early manhood and continued in that faith to the end. His widow and three children survive him, also three grandchildren. In speaking to his wife a couple of weeks before the end came, he said that if it was his last sickness he had no fear, he was ready to go home.

Services were held from his home and the M. E. church in North Liberty, conducted by Rev. Thorn. Burial was made in the North Liberty cemetery.

COOK.—Mary Jane Hoover, daughter of David and Sarah Hoover, was born near North Liberty, Iowa, September 2, 1857, and passed away April 7, 1932, at the age of 74 years, 7 months and 5 days. Her early life was spent at North Liberty and it was there that, on December 29, 1881, she was united in marriage to George X. Cook. After their marriage they came to Shelby county and settled on a farm in Cass township where they remained until they retired from the farm and came to Harlan in 1918.

Six children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Cook: Harlan, of Los Angeles, California; Anthony, deceased; Mrs. Henry Young, of North Liberty; Henry, deceased; Mrs. Otto Thompson, of Irwin, and Mrs. Gerald Goodner, of Harlan.

At the age of 22, Mrs. Cook gave her heart to Christ and was baptized and united with the Church of God. She had always lived a consistent Christian life, and until a few years ago she was a faithful worker and attendant at church.

Mrs. Cook was a kind and loving mother and wife, and she will be greatly missed by faithful husband, and the members of the family, as well as a large group of friends, but what is their loss is her eternal gain.

Services in the Methodist Church at Harlan, conducted by Rev. S. Grant Lewis.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon, at the Lutheran church, for Mrs. Sarah Price, aged 80 years, who passed away on Thursday at Bucyrus, Kansas, after a lingering illness. Mrs. Price was born in Ohio and came to North Liberty when young, and was a well liked pioneer. She left nearly a year ago to be with her daughters. Surviving her are two daughters, Mrs. Harvey Lininger Mrs. Arthur Roberts, both of Bucyrus Kansas, two sons Robert Price, of North Liberty, and Arthur Price of Waterloo. Her husband, Mr. Frank Price, well known hardware and implement dealer preceded her in death four years age.

NORTH LIBERTY — Mrs. Edna Zeller died Monday at Mercy hospital in Iowa City, after an illness of a few days and following an operation for appendicitis. Surviving are her husband, Frank Zeller, two sons and two daughters; her father, Isaac Myers, sr.; three brothers, John Myers of Gasport, N. Y., Lewis Myers of Denver and Isaac Myers, jr., of North Liberty; two sisters, Mrs. Anna Albertson of Whittier, Calif., and Mrs. Iowa Lentz of North Liberty. Funeral services will be held at the North Liberty Methodist church at 2 p.m. Thursday.

LININGER—BLANKENSHIP. — Mr. Ervin F. Lininger of North Liberty, Iowa, and Miss Ruth L. Blankenship of Galt, Iowa, were united in marriage at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. E. E. Heltibridle, in Grundy Center, Iowa, February 11, 1937. The ring ceremony was used.

REUBEN STONER AND WIFE RETURN FROM YELLOWSTONE

Madison Twp., Sept. 28—Reuben Stoner and wife have returned from a several weeks auto tour through the west. They went by way of Minnesota and over the Yellowstone trail through the Dakotas and Montana and entered the Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming. Here they drove on the "Trail of a Thousand Wonders," along which were the geysers that spout hot water high into the air; sheer mountain sides, picturesquely formed and occasionally occupied by bald eagles as sentinels. Elk and bear had their habitat in the valleys and are protected by rangers. After a week in this scenic wonderland they started the homeward journey coming by way of Cheyenne and Pine Bluffs, a district in which some of our Madison and Penn township folks took up "claims" fourteen years ago. Continuing on the Lincoln Highway they passed through the great plains of Nebraska and then into the Hawkeye State, where they landed safely after their 3300 hundred mile Buick tour and an expense of several tires, tubes and 190 gallons of gasoline.

OATS YIELD 6 TO 14 BUSHELS AN ACRE

July 2 — 1934

Special to The Gazette.

NORTH LIBERTY—Oats recently threshed in the North Liberty community yielded from six to fourteen bushels per acre. Carroll Colony threshed more than thirty acres of oats Saturday which averaged six bushels per acre. The oats were cut but not shocked. Davis Sentman Tuesday threshed forty acres averaging eight bushels per acre. Paul Sentman received an average yield of fourteen bushels per acre from sixteen acres.

Oats is being combined, cut for hay, or pastured. Straw is short and heads are light. Some farmers have given up attempting to cut oats with a binder. Other farmers placed strips of linoleum and roofing on binder reels to sweep the grain on to the platform canvas.

Special to The Gazette.

NORTH LIBERTY—Ellen Bowman Beecher, 81, lifetime resident of the vicinity of North Liberty, died at Mercy hospital in Iowa City Friday afternoon. Mrs. Beecher, born Jan. 12, 1853, was the daughter of Jacob and Margaret Bowman, pioneers who settled in Penn township in 1846. Mrs. Beecher owned the farm one mile south of North Liberty that her father homesteaded. She moved to North Liberty in 1910. She was married Feb. 20 1907, to Jonathan W. Beecher, wh. died in 1929.

Four weeks ago Mrs. Beecher fell in her home and suffered a broken hip. When taken to the hospital it was found she was suffering from cancer, which caused her death. She was a lifelong member of the Lutheran church of North Liberty and active in the W. C. T. U. work. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Kate Bane of North Liberty, a brother, J. Bowman of Webster, four nieces and two nephews.

Miss Geneva Colony and Mr. Homer Fossler Wed

100 Guests Witness Ceremony This Noon in Methodist Church at North Liberty

Feb. 2 - 1935.

Miss Geneva Colony, daughter of Mrs. Mary Colony of North Liberty, became the bride of Mr. Homer L. Fossler, son of Mr. H. C. Fossler of Williamsburg, in the presence of 100 guests at noon today in the Methodist church at North Liberty.

The Rev. Charles Fort of Vinton, Ia., former student pastor of the Methodist church here, read the service before a bank of ferns. The church was decorated in the bride's chosen colors, green, silver and white, with green and white candles adorning the chancel rail.

In Velvet Gown

The bride, dressed in a Spanish tile velvet gown trimmed with rhinestones, wore a harmonizing turban and veil and carried an armful of talisman roses with blue and white sweet peas. Her bridesmaid, Miss Mildred Hughes of Iowa City, wore blue velvet and a matching turban. Her flowers were Joan Hill roses in an arm bouquet.

Mr. Fossler was attended by his brother, Mr. H. Ray Fossler of Vermillion, S. D. A little niece of the bride, Mary Evelyn Colony, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Colony of North Liberty, was the flower girl. Dressed in shell pink organdy, she scattered pink rose petals before the bride. Austin Colony, the bride's nephew, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Colony of North Liberty, carried the ring in a magnolia bloom.

Bridal Chorus

Mr. Fossler's brother, Mr. M. L. Fossler of Chicago, played the bridal chorus from Lohengrin as processional and Mendelssohn's recessional. During the ceremony Miss Arlene Mehaffy of Milton sang "I Love You Truly."

The guests greeted the bridal couple in the reception room of the church following the service, and a three-course luncheon was served in the parlors. The bride's mother, who assisted in receiving, was gowned in paisley silk.

The bride's table was in white, centered with a wedding cake, and with candles at either end. Miss Clara Hansmeier and Miss Ava Frum, Waterloo teachers who are friends of the bride, assisted in the dining room.

Iowa Graduates

Mrs. Fossler holds a bachelor of science degree from the University of Iowa, where she became a member of Phi Gamma Nu, commerce sorority, and Kappa Phi, Methodist student organization. She taught the last four and one-half years at the West high school in Waterloo.

Mr. Fossler is superintendent of schools at Ladora, Ia. He received a B. A. degree from the University of Iowa and was elected here to membership in Phi Kappa Delta, honorary educational society.

Mr. and Mrs. Fossler, after a short wedding trip, will be at home in Ladora, February 15th.

North Liberty Man Plants Corn 55 Consecutive Years

May 25, 1935

—Tru-Art cut.

READY TO ROLL UP THE WIRE FOR THE 55TH TIME.

Special to The Gazette.

NORTH LIBERTY — This picture shows Thomas A. Coglan of North Liberty in the field on his 160-acre farm, two and one-half miles southwest, as he finished planting corn on that farm for the fifty-fifth consecutive year.

Mr. Coglan estimates he has checked in an average of fifty acres of corn annually since he started planting as a 13-year-old lad in 1881. Assuming that the fields averaged eighty rods in length, Mr. Coglan in the fifty-five years rode a corn planter a total of 3,093.75 miles and set the planter stakes over at least 12,375 times.

Of course, many of the fields were less than eighty rods long hence it is likely he got off the seat more than 15,000 times to set over the stake.

Mr. Coglan has lived in North Liberty for sixteen years but he never fails to plant the corn on the Coglan homestead where he was born. The farm now is operated by Mr. Coglan's son, Byron Coglan, on a 50-50 basis.

In 1881 Mr. Coglan's first experience was with a "Climax" planter on which he sat and dropped the seed kernels with a lever on intersecting marks made previously with a sled arrangement both ways of the field. His next planter was a "Haworth." In subsequent years improved types were used as they became available.

Lacina Reports 2 Hours Needed to Travel Two Miles

1-30 — 1936.

Mr. Charles W. Lacina, president of the Johnson county board of supervisors, had first hand information on the condition of roads today. Mr. Lacina was two hours covering two miles in getting to the courthouse this morning from his home on the Black Diamond road. His trip, made half the way in a bob sled, included side trips through fields, over fences and with the aid of a shovel in several places.

The high wind Thursday drifted the fine snow over all of the side roads, recovering the work that had been going on night and day for the last week as the county plows opened the packed drifts. County Engineer Ray H. Justen was swamped with calls from all parts of the county today seeking plows, and the workmen started doing their jobs over again.

Some idea of the depth of the drifts encountered may be gained from the other two pictures, showing Mr. Meyers on the plow.

Coal supplies for Kalona homes was being procured by a group of residents from the Washington county town when this picture was taken Monday afternoon at the Rock Island yards here. About 75 Kalona men, riding in 10 trucks, shoveled their way east on No. 22 to Riverside and north on No. 161 to Iowa City, shoveling out more than 50 drifts, to break their isolation of nearly a week from mail and coal.

With the exception of highway No. 6 east and west and No. 161 south to Riverside, most of the roads in this area remained closed this afternoon. State highway plows were concentrated on getting one-way traffic through on No. 6, and efforts were being made to open No. 161 between here and Cedar Rapids by late this afternoon. 2-9-1936.

Open No. 161

A large group of Kalona residents, riding 10 trucks and armed with shovels, opened No. 161 between Riverside and Iowa City this morning.

County employes had battled most of the morning to plow through a 400-foot embankment near the airport and succeeded in getting this stretch of highway No. 161 open as far south as Indian Lookout.

Nearly 20 cars were stalled Saturday night and Sunday near the Scott church corner eight miles east on U. S. highway No. 6. Unable to buck the drifts, the motorists drove off to the side of the paved road and sought retreat in farm homes overnight. Snowplows assisted in jerking the cars out of the snowdrifts Sunday night

35-Mile Wind Accompanies 3-Inch Snow

Roads Closed, No Buses; Trains Late

Feb. 24-9-1936.

Three inches of snow, swept into Johnson county on a 35 mile-an-hour wind, again crippled all traffic in eastern Iowa today as central and western Iowa were completely snowbound by the worst blizzard in years.

Partially clearing skies in Iowa City this afternoon gave promise that the high wind would abate here before the storm could reach the intensity which brought traffic to a complete stop through all parts of the state west of here.

Withdraw Plows

Meanwhile, however, state highway commission bulletins from Ames ordered all snow plow crews off the highways throughout Iowa, the rapidly drifting highways making work at the present impossible and even dangerous.

The highway commission was broadcasting from all radio stations in the state to warn motorists to remain within their own cities, with travel even in this end of the state extremely hazardous and uncertain.

It was reported that cars could get through for short distances, but huge drifts, constantly growing in size, were making the conditions become worse hourly.

Trains Slowed

No buses were operating either east or west of Iowa City today, Mr. Robert McComas, local agent, said, with the only bus arriving here, that from Chicago this morning, ordered to remain here until conditions improve and highways are opened.

With no trains running west of Des Moines, Mr. [illegible]

Robert C. Mehaffey, 80, Passes Away On Monday

2-9-1936

NORTH LIBERTY—Mr. Robert Carson Mehaffey, 80, a pioneer resident of this community, passed away at his home here at 6:45 o'clock Monday night, following an illness of eight months.

Mr. Mehaffey was born May 30, 1855 in Canada. His marriage to Miss Mary Doyle took place November 1, 1892.

Surviving are his widow, three daughters, Sister Mary Cordelia of Pocatello, Idaho, Miss Irma Mehaffey of Fresno, Calif., Mrs. Herbert Owen of Iowa City, four sons, John R. of Cincinnati, William A. of Cedar Rapids, James and Emmett at home, a sister, Miss Winnie Mehaffey of Braham, Minn., five brothers, Mathew of Braham, Minn., Arthur of Groton, S. D., Albert of Minneapolis, Guy of California and Arch Mehaffey of North Liberty. There are also four grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at the McGovern funeral home in Iowa City with the Rev. P. J. O'Reilly in charge. Burial will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Miss Bernice Young Of North Liberty To Wed George Michael

May 22—1936.

Surprising a group of 12 guests, her intimate friends, Miss Bernice Young of North Liberty revealed her engagement and announced her approaching marriage to Mr. George Michael of Selma, at a bridge party in her home, Friday evening. The wedding will take place at 4 o'clock, June 6th, and the couple will make their home in Cedar Rapids.

Carrying out the color scheme of pink and blue, dainty pink nut-cups contained blue iris, wherein were concealed notes carrying the announcement. Bridge preceded the refreshments, and Miss Iowa Zeller's score was highest.

Guests from the North Liberty region were Misses Zeller, Dorothy Myers, Katherine Wolfe, Helen Critchley, Bernice and Edith Young, and Mesdames Lowell Myers and Clifford Koser. Those from Iowa City were Miss Helen Jones and the Mesdames Wendell Stoner, Lester Kimberly and Dillard Bray.

Cold Wave Worst In At Least 117 Years

DES MOINES (INS)—The present Iowa cold wave is the longest and most severe in more than a century, Charles D. Reed, director of the federal weather bureau, said Friday.

The 21-day period, beginning Jan. 22 and calculated through Feb. 11, averaged 1.9 degrees below zero at Des Moines, and exceeded anything in records going back 117 years.

"Much is said by old timers about cold periods in the 40's, 50's and 60's, but the actual temperature records available in the Des Moines office show there is nothing to compare with the present cold spell," he declared.

His calculations were based on the Des Moines figures, which, if anything, have been less severe than those in many other parts of the state.

The previous record was from Dec. 31, 1911, to Jan. 20, 1912, when the mercury average 1.7 degrees below zero.

"Moreover," Reed said, "each successive day now establishes a new record for sustained cold."

Complete records for Iowa weather start with the winter of 1878-79, but Reed has mean temperatures going back to 1819. [illegible] that nowhere in the 117 years of records kept there could a similar period of sustained cold be found.

Reed pointed out that there were other points in Iowa where colder temperatures had been reported. Cedar Rapids apparently was one such point, for the mean temperature from Jan. 22 through Feb. 11 was -7.7 degrees, according to reckoning based on figures supplied The Gazette from the Chambers Inskeep recording thermometer. The "bottom" here during that period was -31 degrees. No other point in Iowa reported a lower figure.

From Jan. 22 until Feb. 2, the average here each day was below zero. Only three days out of the twenty-one showed an average temperature above zero. In every day but one, the temperature was below zero for at least a few minutes. The maximum during the twenty-one days was never above the recognized freezing point—32 above zero. 1936

BUILD SNOW BARRIERS—More than 175 WPA workers were assigned to highway snow-fighting contingent Thursday and deployed along a five-mile front south of Cedar Rapids on highway No. 161. The men built snow barriers in open fields adjacent to the highways, a scene reminiscent of the trench-digging activity of war time. In the top picture a squad of men is shown tossing snow from a trench six miles south of Cedar Rapids. In the lower picture another WPA force is shown attacking a highway dri[illegible] about five miles south of the city. 2-15-1936.

NORTH LIBERTY WOMAN PASSES

4-3-1936. Fri.

Mrs. Belle Wolfe Dies This Morning After Brief Illness

Mrs. Belle Wolfe, 56, residing four miles north of North Liberty on highway No. 161, passed away this morning at a Cedar Rapids hospital at 2:30 o'clock following a brief illness.

Born November 9, 1880, in Madison township, Mrs. Wolfe was the daughter of David W. and Jennie Wray, pioneer settlers in Madison township. She passed her entire life in that community, and was married to Mr. Clarence Wolfe of North Liberty on October 4, 1902.

Mrs. Wolfe was a longtime member of the Crossroads United Brethren church, and was a member of the Priscilla club and the Methodist Ladies Aid society of North Liberty.

She is survived by her husband; a daughter, Kathryn, at home; a sister, Mrs. Edith Ranshaw of North Liberty; a brother, Mr. Carson Wray of North Liberty; and her stepmother, Mrs. Dora Wray Alt of North Liberty.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Oathout funeral chapel. Dr. S. B. Miller of Cedar Rapids, assisted by the Rev. A. M. Smith of North Liberty, will be in charge. Burial will be in the North Liberty cemetery.

DEATH TAKES ANDREW ROUP

Lifelong Resident of the County Succumbs Friday

4-4-1936 - Sat.

Mr. Andrew J. Roup, 63, 231 Lexington avenue, lifelong resident of Johnson county, passed away Friday night at 11 o'clock at his home following a two weeks' illness.

Mr. Roup was born June 20, 1872, on his father's farm in Madison township, near North Liberty, and resided there for 47 years. His son, Mr. Carl Roup, has occupied the farm since Mr. Roup's retirement 17 years ago.

Mr. Roup married Edith Crozier of North Liberty in November, 1896, and she passed away in 1926. May 21, 1931, he married Laura M. Byers. He was a lifelong member of the Methodist church. Since his retirement, he has passed two winters in California.

In addition to the widow and his son, survivors are three sisters, Mrs. Mary Stouffer of Phillips, S. D., Mrs. Rose Anderson of Seymour, Iowa, and Mrs. Dolly M. Wolfe of Toronto, Iowa, and two grandchildren. Two sisters and one brother preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be at Beckman's Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Dr. Sylvester E. Ellis, pastor of the Methodist church, in charge. Burial will be in Ridgewood cemetery, North Liberty.

NORTH LIBERTY — Relatives and friends here have received announcements of the marriage of Miss Maxine Swords of Eldon to Mr. Dwight E. Weaver of Peoria, Ill., on July 28th. 1936

Mrs. Weaver has visited in this community frequently and cared for her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Myers, for a year. Mr. and Mrs. Weaver are now residing in Peoria, Ill.

Announce Marriage Of Alyce Hardy to Mr. Edward Siders

Miss Alyce Hardy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Quinton Hardy of North Liberty, and Mr. Edward Siders, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira M. Siders of west of Iowa City, were united in marriage on Thursday, February 6th, at Rock Island, Ill., it was announced today.

Mr. and Mrs. Siders are at home on a farm west of the city. 1936

BORN THE SAME YEAR

Once upon a time, a score of years ago, a little group of "'49-ers" met at the home of "'Squire" Samuel Lininger, in North Liberty. These oldtime citizens were not "'49-ers" in the sense of being California Argonauts, questing gold, beyond the alkali plains, whereon hundreds trekked to death. Each of the five old settlers in that party of merry-makers was born in 1849. That is the "why and the wherefore" of the title, which, therefore, could have naught to do with gold-hunting on the shores of the Pacific.

The five were firm, old friends, when they approached the milestone in life's journey that marked three score and ten. To be more exact, they were 66 years of age, on or about the date of their reunion. The party included the host, Samuel Lininger, the Rev. L. F. Chamberlin, C. D. Hawk, John W. Green, and Nicholas Zeller, Jr. Who, among these five, lives today to recall that strange meeting?

Mr. Lininger was born in Cumberland county, Pennsylvania. His father was Elder Jacob Lininger, a minister in the Church of God, who came to Johnson county with just $30, and he made a payment on his then-entered land with it. The remainder he covered with the income from the 12.000 stakes and rails he hewed out the winter he arrived here. During his eldership, awarded about 1853, he served seven counties, including Johnson, at the same time, preaching 18 times, each three-week period.

Mr. Hawk, born in North Bend, was the son of another elder, Jonathan Hawk. Mr. Green, the son of John Green, Sr., was born in Franklin county, Pennsylvania, not far from his host's place of nativity. The elder Mr. Zeller taught school and surveyed in the Quaker state. After coming to Iowa, and entering land at the Dubuque land office, he returned to Pennsylvania, where he arrived with just 40 cents, of the $17 he had when he left Iowa. 1-15-1936.

Following his second coming to Iowa, where he passed the remainder of his life, he prospered, and was elected a member of the board of supervisors of the county, serving seven years.

The Chamberlains and Hawks came west in '41, and '47, respectively, in pioneer wagons; and the Zellers, Greens, and Liningers traveled here, via the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. The progenitors and descendants of these five men have had a great deal to do with the creation of "North Bend," North Liberty, and Penn and Madison townships, among other precincts of Johnson county

Netah E. Shelton, Russell M. Wolfe Wed in Cedar Rapids

3-1-1936.

NORTH LIBERTY — Netah Elizabeth Shelton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Olinger of Toddville and Russell Milton Wolfe, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Wolfe of North Liberty were married Sunday at 2:30 o'clock in Cedar Rapids at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wienecke. The couple was attended by Miss Lucile Olinger, a sister of the bride and Harold Wolfe, a brother of the bridegroom. The Rev. M. McGlashing officiated, using the single ring ceremony.

The bride wore a floor length black satin crepe gown trimmed in white with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of roses and freesias. The bridesmaid wore a dress of blue crepe and her corsage was of gardenias.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe will make their home on the M. J. Stoner farm east of here.

Those from North Liberty who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Wolfe, Harold Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Stoner, M. J. Stoner, Miss Barbara Stuart, Ray Lininger and George Young. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. John Olinger, Miss Lucile Olinger, Frank Olinger, Mrs. Jay Olinger, Theodore and Miss Virginia Olinger, Netah Faith Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Wienecke, Robert Wienecke, Richard Wienecke, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wienecke, Mr. and Mrs. George Wiley, Miss Virginia Harris, Miss Sally Sorensen.

MRS. PAUL DODT, 64, SUCCUMBS SATURDAY

Dies at Home West of North Liberty

died May 23, 1936.

Mrs. Paul Dodt, 64, passed away at her home four miles west of North Liberty Saturday afternoon about 4 o'clock following a heart attack. The funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Hohenschuh mortuary. Burial will be in the Ridgewood cemetery near North Liberty. Dr. S. B. Miller of Cedar Rapids will be in charge of the funeral service.

Mary Agnes Herdliska was born September 30, 1871, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Herdliska in Madison township. She passed her entire life there. She was married to Mr. Paul Dodt on July 27, 1894.

Surviving are her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Beulah Lagel of Tiffin and Miss Florence Dodt at home; a son, Mr. Earl Dodt of Tiffin; a granddaughter, Yvonne Lagel; two sisters, Mrs. Catherine Brant of Tiffin and Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson of Western; and three brothers, Mr. Joe Herdliska and Mr. Charles Herdliska, both of Cedar Rapids, and Mr. Wilbert Herdliska of St. Paul, Minn.

The son, Mr. Earl Dodt, who has been ill with pneumonia in Mercy hospital here, arrived at the home of his parents about 20 minutes before his mother passed away. Neither saw each other before the mother's death.

Miss Florence Dodt, a daughter, completed her teaching term at Atalissa and arrived at the home Friday evening.

The family requests that no flowers be sent.

PIONEER OF NORTH LIBERTY TO OBSERVE HER 89TH BIRTHDAY

MRS. M. M. GREEN.

Special to The Gazette. 1936

NORTH LIBERTY—Mrs. M. M. Green, the only widow of a Civil war veteran now living in this vicinity, will celebrate her eighty-ninth birthday Wednesday. Mrs. Green has lived in Johnson county eighty-three years. Her husband died in 1902. She has three daughters and two sons and her hobbies are flowers and sewing.

Born near Belleville, Pa., Sept. 23, 1847, she came when 6 years old with her parents to Iowa, traveling by railroad as far west as Pittsburgh, then by steamboat to Muscatine, and the balance of the journey by prairie schooner. Leaving Iowa City they ferried across the Iowa river and passed only one house en route before arriving at what is now North Liberty on May 1, 1853.

This venerable pioneer tells of the remarkable changes from the tallow candle days to the present. She recalls the pioneer days as happy ones except during the Civil war. Mrs. Green, as Mary Margaret Grove, was married to Samuel Green Dec. 28, 1870.

Mrs. Dora Bowman of North Liberty is a patient at Mercy hospital where she is in a critical condition, her right leg having been amputated December 7th. 1936.

—Mr. and Mrs. Theron Oakes of Solon are the proud parents of a baby girl, born Friday, December 26. The baby has been named Jacqueline Glea. 1936 1936

Robert Koser Killed When Train Crashes Automobile Near Tiffin

Sun. 1-24, 1937

ROBERT M. KOSER

Mr. Robert M. Koser, 28, son of Deputy Sheriff Preston M. Koser of Johnson county, was fatally injured Sunday morning whe his coupe was struck by the Rocky Mountain limited at the south edge of Tiffin. The car was completely demolished when it was caught between the limited and another passenger train on a side track.

Mr. Koser was engaged in delivering newspapers on a rural route when the accident occurred. He approached the Rock Island tracks at the southwest edge of Tiffin stopping near the tracks where a westbound passenger train blocked the highway on the siding.

The passenger train waiting for the limited to pass on the main line, backed up to permit Mr. Koser's automobile to cross the tracks it was reported. It was snowing at the time, and the engineer of the westbound train, seeing the limited approaching on the main line, said he blew his whistle twice as a warning signal.

Believed to have been centering his attention to the locomotive on his right, Mr. Koser started to cross the tracks, driving his coupe into the side of the limited's locomotive, approaching from the left, officials said. The coupe was completely demolished, only a portion of the frame remaining intact. The motor was broken and stripped, the automobile body being broken to bits and scattered between the tracks as the car was buffeted between the moving and the standing trains. Mr. Koser's body was found about 150 feet east of the crossing.

Born May 1, 1908, at Iowa City, Robert Koser was graduated from Iowa City high school in 1925 as valedictorian of his class. He was graduated from the University of Iowa in 1930. He had four years of military training, making him second lieutenant in the officers reserve corps. He had been a teacher, serving in the high school at Wapello and at Audubon and was teaching in Union township at the time of his death.

He is survived by his father and step-mother. His mother died in 1925 at North Liberty.

With military rites conducted by members of Company G, 136th Medical regiment, Iowa National Guard, funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Beckman's, Iowa City. Burial was in the Ridgewood cemetery near North Liberty.

IOWA RIVER ON RAMPAGE

3-6-9, 69,3 7c

Press-Citizen Engraving

Motorists westbound from Iowa City had to traverse a stretch of water-covered highway between Iowa City and Coralville. The highway remained passable and north bound traffic was routed to Coralville. The edges of the paving were marked to keep the traffic on the highway. The university golf course was also flooded, as can be seen in the above picture of traffic crossing the water-covered stretch of highway. (Other pictures)

Saturday afternoon traffic into Iowa City on highway No. 161 from the north was forced to ford the Iowa river near Red Ball Inn, as the river flooded the highway. The above picture shows the last of the traffic permitted to travel the highway. The route was closed Saturday evening and has not been reopened. Traffic north from Iowa City is being routed via Coralville and North Liberty.

AUG. 1, 1937. Sat.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McGinnis, whose wedding was solemnized this morning at North Liberty, are pictured above with their attendants. Little Betty Lou McBride, ring bearer, is standing in the foreground and behind her are, left to right, Mr. Edward Thomas of Iowa City, best man, Miss Kathryn Myers, sister of the bride, maid of honor, Mr. McGinnis and Mrs. McGinnis, the former Miss June Myers. The garden at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Myers, formed a beautiful background for the service. (Press-Citizen engraving).

In a beautiful garden setting at the home of her parents this morning Miss June Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Myers of North Liberty, became the bride of Mr. Harold McGinnis, son of Mrs. Nellie McGinnis, 202 West Park road. The Rev. S. B. Miller of Cedar Rapids read the single ring service in the presence of about 50 guests.

The ceremony was performed at the edge of the rock garden and pool, behind which white gladioli and gypsolphia formed a background against a white trellis. California woodwardia and large urns of garden flowers completed the setting.

The bride was preceded down the white path by Betty Lou McBride, ring bearer, who showered rose petals before her. Miss Kathryn Myers attended her sister as maid of honor and Mr. Edward Thomas of Iowa City was best man.

Escorted by her father, the bride wore a gown of white drap de soie and venician lace and a wide picture hat adorned with ribbons and forget-me-nots. Her shower bouquet was fashioned of gardenias tied with French tulle. The maid of honor wore a white sharkskin suit and carried white gladioli and Briarcliffe roses. Her wide-brimmed hat was of white.

Nuptial music was sung by Miss Esther Zeller, with Misses Inez and Bernice Anderson at the piano and violin, respectively.

After the ceremony the bridal party and guests were seated for breakfast at tables on the lawn. The bride's table was adorned with white satin, white gladioli, gypsolphia and love knots of blue ribbon. A tiered wedding cake was set on a table decorated with flowers and greenery.

The couple left this morning for northern Minnesota. They will reside at 725 Clark street after September 1st.

Mrs. McGinnis is an alumna of the University high school and a former student at the University of Iowa. She has been employed as cashier at the Economy grocery store, No. 1. Mr. McGinnis is also a graduate of the University high school, and is employed in the shops in the physics department of the university.

Pneumonia Causes Death of Isaac Meyers, Last Member Of County G. A. R. Chapter

Dies at North Liberty At Age 96; Funeral Is Tomorrow

Wed. May. 16-1938.

Mr. Isaac B. Meyers, 96, last surviving member of Samuel J. Kirkwood G. A. R. post of Johnson county, died at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lentz, with whom he had resided in North Liberty for the last 17 years.

Mr. Meyers was North Liberty's oldest resident and its only surviving Civil war veteran. He was among the oldest alumni of Cornell college at Mt. Vernon, Iowa.

Born in York county, Pennsylvania, September 26, 1841, Mr. Meyers came to Iowa with his parents, two brothers and two sisters in 1849, making all of the trip but 13 miles by boat on canals and rivers. His father contracted cholera on boat and was removed at Muscatine (then Bloomington), where he died a few hours later.

The widow brought her children to Penn township in Johnson county but after a few months returned with her family to their old home in Pennsylvania.

Returns In 1859

Isaac Meyers was 18 years old when he returned to Iowa in 1859. He left school to serve with the Union army, enlisting at Iowa City August 19, 1861, in Co. H of the Second Iowa cavalry. He took part in a fierce engagement at Franklin, Tenn. He was shot through the left thigh and was confined to a hospital for four and one-half months.

After being mustered out of service at Selma, Ala., September 22, 1865, Mr. Meyers returned to his home with his health impaired and was unable to work for nearly a year.

Rear Seven Children

Eventually he located on his grandfather's farm which the latter had obtained from the government. In 1868 he married Miss Sarah E. Moreland and the couple resided on the farm for many years, rearing a family of seven children who were educated in North Liberty and Iowa City schools.

ISAAC B. MEYERS

Mr. Meyers was an honored member of the Masonic lodge which he joined 56 years ago, of White Marble lodge No. 238 of North Liberty and lodge No. 2 of Iowa City.

Mrs. Meyers died July 5, 1920. Two daughters, Mrs. Ella Hemphill and Mrs. Edna Zeller, also preceded their father in death on December 14, 1932, and September 18, 1933, respectively.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Anna Albertson of Whittier, Calif., and Mrs. Iowa Lentz of North Liberty; three sons, Messrs. John G. Meyers of Gasport, N. Y., I. B. Meyers of North Liberty and Lewis Meyers of Colorado Springs, Colo.; 22 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren. One brother, Mr. David Meyers of Davenport, also survives.

Funeral Tomorrow

The remains are at Beckman's. Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the North Liberty Methodist Episcopal church. The Rev. J. A. Worrell will officiate. Burial will be in Ridgewood cemetery near North Liberty.

Mr. Lewis Meyers of Colorado Springs arrived in North Liberty Wednesday afternoon, a few hours before the death of his father.

John Bowman Infant Dies Today at Home In Madison Township

died May 8-1938

Robert John Bowman, day-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bowman of Madison township, died in his home at 8 o'clock this morning.

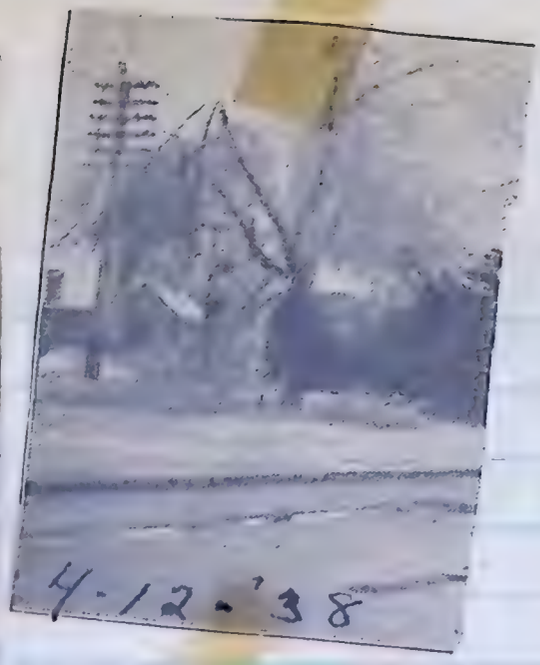
Surviving are the parents; two sisters, Dorothy Louise and Velma Irene, at home; the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Moore of Iowa City; the paternal grandmother, Mrs. Laurena Bowman of Findley, Ohio.

Private funeral services will be held in the home at 1:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Burial will be in Oak Ridge cemetery. The Oathout funeral home is in charge.

FARM NOTES

4-12-1938 Tues night

By ROBERT P. ADAMS



THE WEATHERMAN certainly has become mixed in his controls—March as mild and balmy as May, April buffeting us like mid-January. The most damaging sleet storm of the winter struck with full force Tuesday night and the extent of the damage is not entirely apparent yet.

Ice-burdened trees, lashed by the force of a fierce northeast wind, are groaning and swaying, with their branches bent down to the limit of flexibility. Every now and then a crash and a dull, heavy thud tells of another limb which could not stand any further strain.

Already the old maples look like some amateur tree-trimmer had been at work with little left of the upper branches but irregular, mutilated stumps, while underneath the trees lies a dense litter of branches and ice. The white pines are faring little better while the three-quarter-century-old red cedar in the house yard has lost two large limbs, tough as this wood is.

The telephone is "out," dead. The high line ceased to function at an early hour Wednesday morning and by evening good old-fashioned substitutes were much in evidence. The candle and the kerosene lamp will do in an emergency. How we miss the radio, and the cheerful, sociable whistle of the cars on the electric line—all taken so much as a matter of course until an emergency renders them temporarily unusable.

STORM WRECKS POWER AND COMMUNICATION LINES—This scene along the Iowa City interurban line just north of North Liberty is typical of many in eastern Iowa where hundreds of poles and wires were downed by sleet and snow Tuesday night and Wednesday. The Cedar Rapids and Iowa City railway estimated 200 of its poles were down. The breakage caused cancellation of interurban service between here and Iowa City, probably until the end of the week, company officials said.

Earl Flory, 21, and Rosalia Green, 25, both of North Liberty, have received a marriage license at the office of the clerk of the Johnson county district court.

SEEK WOMAN FOR LARCENY

6-2—1938

Information Is Filed Against Mrs. Young By Vestermark

County Atty. Harold W. Vestermark today filed in Johnson county district court a county attorney's information charging Mrs. Ethel Childs Young of St. Petersburg, Fla., with larceny by bailee.

Mrs. Young, wife of Mr. Henry Young, of North Liberty, since early summer, is being held by St. Petersburg police at the request of the county attorney.

The prosecutor said that he made application today to the governor of Florida for extradition of Mrs. Young in the event she refuses to come to Iowa to face the charge. Judge James P. Gaffney Saturday signed an order authorizing expenditure of county funds for bringing the woman back to Johnson county.

The county attorney said that it is charged Mrs. Young drew out of a local bank $2,000 from a trust fund for Mr. Young's minor son, Marcus, $7,000 worth of Mr. Young's bonds and a smaller sum in cash. The offense charged is alleged to have been committed August 4.

MISS ROSALIA GREEN.

In the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Green, northwest of North Liberty, this afternoon at 3 o'clock their eldest daughter, Rosalia, will become the bride of Earl W. Flory of Kinross, the Rev. A. L. Shuey of Mount Pleasant performing the ceremony.

The bride will be given in marriage by her father. The wedding march will be played by Margaret Kollman of Westgate, who will also sing preceding the ceremony, accompanied by Merwyn Green. The bride will wear white satin, fashioned princess style, with a long train. Her veil of tulle will be caught to a wreath of mock orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet will be of talisman roses and forget-me-nots and her jewelry will be a pearl necklace, a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Gladys Green will attend her sister as maid of honor, wearing pastel peach organza and a corsage of blue sweet peas. Miss Marie Flory, sister of the bridegroom, will serve as bridesmaid, wearing a gown of hyacinth organza. Her flowers will be peach sweet peas. Harry Flory of Sumner, brother of the bridegroom, will be the best man.

After the ceremony a wedding luncheon will be served to sixty guests at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride has taught in rural schools five years near North Liberty. She will resume her teaching at the Uray school this fall. Mr. Flory attended Iowa State Teachers college and has taught in rural schools. At present he is employed by Hunzinger Wagner company of Iowa City.

Couple Is Married In Sunday Service At North Liberty

Miss Rosalia Rebecca Green, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Green of near North Liberty, and Mr. Earl W. Flory, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Flory of Kinross, were married Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents, the Rev. A. L. Shuey of Mount Pleasant officiating at the single ring service.

Sixty guests witnessed the service, which was performed before an improvised altar adorned with palms and garden flowers and covered with an arch of roses and ferns. Miss Margaret Kollman of West Gate, sang nuptial solos, accompanied at the piano by Mr. Merwyn Green, and played the wedding march.

Pearl Necklace

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin princess style gown, with high cowl neckline caught at the shoulders with clusters of pearls and long puffed sleeves fitted to points over the hands. The skirt flared widely to the floor and to the long circular train, and the fingertip veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was fashioned of Johanna Hill roses, delphinium and gypsophilia, and the bride's only ornament was a pearl necklace, the bridegroom's gift.

Gowned in a floor-length frock of peach organza, Miss Gladys Green attended her sister as maid of honor. Lace trimmed the dress, white accessories were worn and delphinium and gypsolphia formed the bouquet. Miss Marie Flory, the bridegroom's sister, served as bridesmaid, wearing a gown identical to Miss Green's, but hyacinth blue in color. Her bouquet was of peach-colored snapdragons and gypsolphia. Mr. Harry Flory of Sumner was his brother's best man.

Honeymoon

Following a reception at which the color motif of peach and hyacinth was carried out, the couple departed on a wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore a beige and white ensemble. The couple will be at home after July 3 on a farm northwest of North Liberty.

Mrs. Flory is an alumna of Iowa City high school. She has been teaching in rural schools of the county, and will resume this work in the fall. Mr. Flory, a graduate of Kinross high school, attended Iowa State Teachers college and has taught in rural schools. He is now employed by the Hunzinger-Wagner Co. in Iowa City.

Johnson County Farm Women
TAKE YOUR BOW

Johnson county farm women, take your bow!

For the second consecutive year you have demonstrated that when it comes to hazarding a prediction on what the Chicago top market for hogs will be on September 1 you are "tops." 1938

Such was the disclosure made this mornng by a special committee composed of Mayor Myron J, Walker, Atty. William R. Hart and Mr. Charles A. Bowman, appointed by the Farmers' Livestock Marketing Association of Johnson County to determine the winners of its contest which was held at the organization's annual meeting in June. At that time 161 farm men and women predicted what they thought the Chicago top for hogs would be on September 1.

It so happened that the Chicago top September 1, which was Thursday, was $9.05. Maybe it was a coincidence but it also happened that Mrs. Joe Kasper of Morse and Miss Jessie Lininger, rural route No. 1, Iowa City, predicted last June that the Chicago top for hogs September 1 would be $9.05.

Records reveal that Mrs. Georg Krall was the only one of the co testants who forecast the corr price last year. 1938

There was a 12-way tie for second place, seven persons estimating $9.10 and five predicting a top hog price of $9.

Those who selected $9.10 included Mrs. Jessie Anderson, rural route No. 1, Iowa City; Oren Alt, rural route No. 3, Iowa City; Joe Miltner of Iowa City, Charles F. Buline of Iowa City, Nettie F. Bowie, rural route No. 5, Iowa City; M. Colony of North Liberty and George S. Kaspar of Solon. Equally as close with a prediction of $9 were Marion Krall, rural route No. 7, Iowa City; Mrs. Emil Meyer of Lone Tree, B. P. Hunter of Iowa City, Mrs. A. E. Reeve of Tiffin and Loretta Zenisek of Solon.

Six tied for third place. They are George Krall, rural route No. 7, Iowa City and Dale Anderson, rural route No. 1, Iowa City. with forecasts of $8.95 and Mrs. Frank Krall of Newport, Joe Kadera, rural route No. 7, Iowa City, George R. Black, rural route No. 3, Iowa City, and John E. Sladek, rural route No. 5, Iowa City, each with an estimate of $9.15.

MRS. LININGER DIES AT HOME

Life Resident of County Succumbs at North Liberty Today

NORTH LIBERTY—Mrs. John Lininger, life resident of Johnson county, died at 4:30 o'clock this morning at her home in North Liberty following an illness of nine weeks. She was 78 years old.

She was the daughter of Nathan and Mary Ann Owens, pioneer residents of the county, and was born August 13, 1860, near North Liberty. She was married to Mr. John Lininger February 14, 1895. The couple farmed in Penn township until moving to North Liberty in 1908. She was a member of the North Liberty Methodist Episcopal church.

Surviving are the husband and a brother, Mr. Newton Owens of Cedar Rapids.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the North Liberty Methodist church. The Rev. J. A. Worrell will be in charge. Burial will be in Ridgewood cemetery near North Liberty. The remains are at the Oathout funeral chapel.

Women Beat Men In Hog Price Guessing Contest

IOWA CITY—Placing their estimates at $9.05, two women outguessed all the men in the Johnson County Livestock Marketing association in a contest to estimate the Sept. 1 top of the Chicago hog market. The winners were Mrs. Joe Casper and Miss Jessie Lininger of Iowa City. The contest was a feature of the annual association meeting here on June 2. 1938

According to E. L. Hegg, manager, the guesses ranged from $5.50 to $15 a hundredweight. There were twelve second prize winners who thought the market would hit either $9 or $9.10, and six third prize winners placed their bets on $8.95 or $9.15.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lininger returned to their home Saturday after passing a few days visiting at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. Linnie Hogsett, and daughter, Margaret, at Paris, Mo. 5-14-21

They also attended the commencement program of the Paris school, Margaret being one of the graduates. Other relatives present were Mrs. Millie Lininger, Mrs. Merrill Hamilton and daughter, Caroline, of Cedar Rapids and Mrs. Dayton Lininger of Marion. 1938

Blue and silver spruce, holly and poinsettias, illuminated by the soft glow from candles, adorned the Welsh Congregational church Christmas day for the late-afternoon wedding of Miss Norma Griffith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Griffith, of near here, to Mr. Lloyd Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Myers, of North Liberty, the Rev. James Waery, pastor, reading the service in the presence of a large company of guests.

Preceding the service, Mrs. Waery, organist, presented a recital, ending at 6 o'clock with the singing of two nuptial solos by Prof. Ruth E. Rowland, of Chico, Calif., accompanied at the piano by Miss Eunice Mae Gilchrist, who also played the wedding march.

White moire taffeta formed the bridal gown, which was fashioned with high neckline, fitted bodice, a flared skirt and long train. The bride carried her Order of Rainbow for Girls Bible, from which extended streamers adorned with valley lilies. Her only ornament was her great grandmother's cameo brooch.

Besides her father, who gave her in marriage, attendants to the bride were Miss Margaret Myers, a sister of the bridegroom, maid of honor, and Misses Marilyn Leighton, Florence Rohrbacher, Miriam Williams and Helen White, bridesmaids. All wore pastel-colored frocks fashioned colonial style with fitted bodices and bouffant skirts, and all carried Talisman roses and wore gold cross necklaces.

Mr. Rowland Griffith, a brother of the bride, was best man, and ushers were Messrs. Quentin Griffith, Harold Spencer, Bob Miller and Harold Griffith.

Mrs. Griffith wore a rose crepe gown with wide stitched and appliqued belt, and Mrs. Myers was attired in a teal blue ensemble. The bride's parents opened their home afterward for a wedding dinner for 140 guests, silvered English laurel branches and lighted blue tapers adorning the setting. Each guest received a bit of bride's and bridegroom's cake wrapped in blue and adorned with a sprig of mistletoe.

When Mr. and Mrs. Myers departed later on their honeymoon, the bride wore for traveling an Eleanor blue frock with coat, hat and accessories of dubonnet. They will reside at Ames, where both attend Iowa State college. The bride attended Iowa City high school, and the bridegroom, the University high school.

... GEORGE YOUNG

April 23-1939.

Miss Leone Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Martin of North Liberty, became the bride of Mr. George Young, son of Mr. Henry Young of North Liberty, at a 6 o'clock candlelight service Sunday evening at the North Liberty Methodist church.

The Rev. Forrest Kellogg, church pastor, performed the double ring ceremony. Nuptial music was sung by Mrs. Kathryn Phelps and Mr. Marlan Howe, both of Rochester, and Mr. Clarence Howe of Tipton with Miss Bonita Crees of Rochester at the piano.

Miss Eloise Martin and Mr. Fred J. Dever, both of North Liberty, attended the couple. Dorothy Ellen Dever, wearing a blue dotted Swiss frock, and Keith Kellogg in a little navy blue suit were ring bearers, carrying the rings in colonial bouquets, and Messrs. Carl Snavely, Marcus Young, Van Martin and William Stoner served as ushers.

The bride is pictured above in royal blue velvet frock, royal blue mits and matching shoulder-length veil with gold tiara she wore for her wedding. Her flowers were Joan Hill roses and sweet peas. Her attendant wore a fuchsia net gown with matching velvet headband and carried jonquils..

Mr. Lester Martin gave his sister in marriage. Mrs. Martin, the bride's mother, wore a navy blue ensemble with white accessories.

Royal blue and gold were used in decorations for a reception following the ceremony in the church parlors. Centering the table was a three-tiered bride's cake.

The couple departed later on a wedding trip, after which they will be at home in North Liberty, where the bridegroom is employed. Mrs. Young graduated from Springdale high school in 1936 and for the last two and one-half years has been residing in Glendale, Calif. The bridegroom was graduated from the University high school here in 1931.

Kathryn Wolfe Becomes Bride Of Lowell Taylor

March 1940

Saturday morning at 10 o'clock Miss Kathryn Wray Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Wolfe, 1801 Higley avenue SE, became the bride of Lowell M. Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Taylor, 508 Vernon drive SE, at the home of the bride's parents. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Charles J. Bready of St. Paul's Methodist church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a navy blue gabardine tailored suit with blue and white accessories and a corsage of orchids.

A wedding breakfast and reception followed the ceremony, guests being received at the Wolfe home. The fireplace, before which the ceremony was performed, was decorated with ferns and baskets of gladiolus and Easter lilies. The scene was lighted by white candles in tall candelabra. Spring flowers decorated the serving table.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor left in the afternoon for a short wedding trip, the bride wearing a beige sports coat and beige accessories and her wedding suit. They will be at home after April 15 at 1801 Higley avenue SE.

Mrs. Taylor attended Stephens college at Columbia, Mo., and Coe college. Mr. Taylor, a graduate of the University of Iowa, is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Wendell C. Taylor of Indianapolis, Miss Pearl Graham of Iowa City, Miss Mary Wolfe of North Liberty and Harold Wolfe of North Liberty.

ORM TAKES HEAVY TOLL IN VICINITY

ellets Weighing Nearly Half Pound Reported; Greenhouses Suffer Severe Loss

County residents were still rubing their eyes this afternoon as ey peered in refrigerators at ilstones saved from Tuesday fternoon's bombardment.

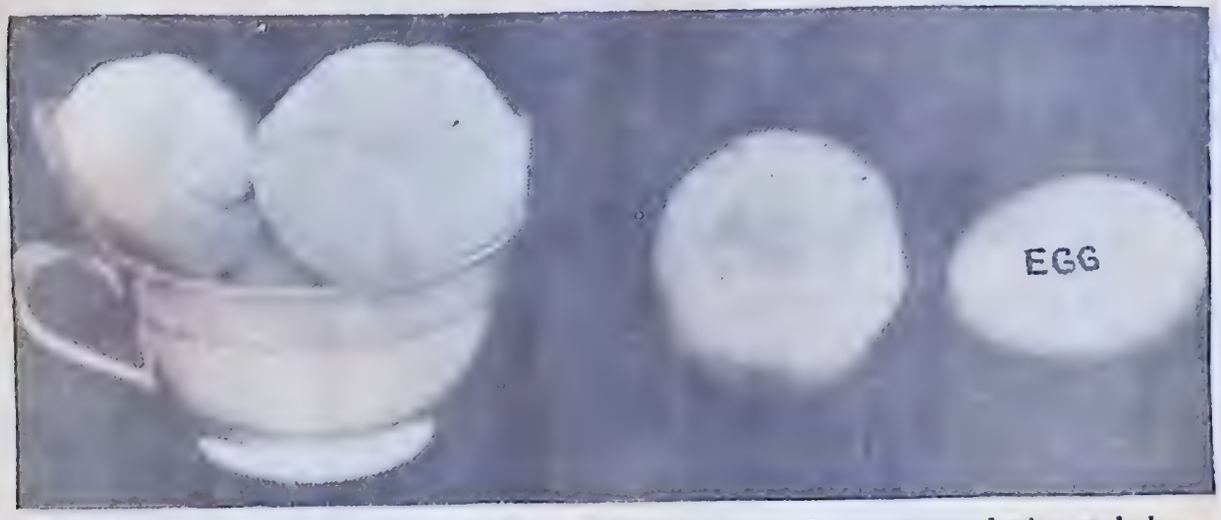
No official in the city will venure the maximum size and weight f the hailstones, but stories had ome of the pellets as large as ree inches in diameter and weighng more than a quarter of a ound. June 15-1940

Although no estimate was availble as to the total loss, insurance ompanies and maintenance and reairing firms have reported growng amounts, and the damage is exected to be severe.

The most apparent damage involved the tops of automobiles. Most fabric topped cars exposed to the downpour of hail were damaged. Some downtown garage officials reported further that oods and steel tops of some cars eeded refinishing in some spots.

Here Is Actual Size Hailstone That Fell Tuesday

Side by side for comparison are a golf ball and one of the hailstones that fell in Iowa City's worst hail storm in many years late Tuesday afternoon. The hailstone is reproduced above in actual size. Some of the hailstones were reported to have measured as much as three inches in diameter. (Press-Citizen Photo).



Some of the larger hailstones that fell in Iowa City Tuesday made an average hen's egg look the size of a marble, as can be seen in the photo above. The ordinary tea cup also shown above is more than filled with only three of the hailstones in it. (Press-Citizen Photo).

Hidden Taxes Are Burden To Man Trying To Keep Up A Farm, Declares Johnson County Land Owner.

EMPHATICALLY WILLKIE.

Interview with Carl Roup, owner-operator of 231 acres five miles northwest of North Liberty. Born on the same farm in 1897. Interviewed Sept. 9 while he was shingling a barn. Selected at random at Iowa City with the aid of a deputy auditor who pierced the back of a map of Johnson county and came out on the location of the Roup farm.

How many buildings are you going to shingle?

I'll shingle all of them if the fall lasts long enough.

How long since the last shingling?

I presume it has been more than 35 years since these buildings were shingled.

What did shingles cost 35 years ago?

I don't know.

What do they cost now?

I bought 90 squares a year ago at $5 a square.

Why a year ago?

I bought them last fall and stored them expecting the price to go up on account of the war.

Did it?

Lumber has advanced about 10 per cent, but I don't know whether shingles have gone up that much or not.

Is upkeep of buildings one of the heavy expenses of farming?

It sure is. Five years ago I painted all the buildings, and day before yesterday I bought 50 gallons of paint to paint them again.

What did the paint cost?

Eighty-nine cents a gallon. It is mixed red paint. I plan to put it on next year.

Do you use a brush or do you spray?

I never have sprayed.

What is the next heavy expense after upkeep? Taxes?

I don't regard real taxes as unbearable. It's the hidden taxes chiseling in that really amount to dollars if a man tries to keep up a place.

Do you mean the 2 per cent sales taxes you paid on the shingles and paint and things like that?

Yes, and the tax the manufacturers paid. That was in there, too.

Can these hidden taxes be decreased?

They are increasing.

Are they necessary?

They are if the government keeps going the way it is now.

Any suggestion on what government expense might be eliminated?

I'm not well enough versed, probably, to answer that. However, I feel—I know—there has been extravagance in government; a lot of it the last eight years.

In national government?

Yes.

How about local, county and state?

I think government expenses have increased all down the line but the extravagance of national government has been the worst.

That is where the hidden taxes come in, eh?

Yes.

Are you going to vote for Mr. Roosevelt?

Emphatically no!

Why not?

I think he and the administration have gone to extremes in a lot of different things.

In the farm program, perhaps?

I would say yes. I think they have. I never was in the program but one year and that was last year.

Have I omitted any question?

I'd like to mention one more thing, the proposed Coralville dam. Do you remember that creek you crossed coming across the farm? If the Coralville dam goes in, that whole flat will be under water.

How big is that flat?

Pretty close to 20 acres. Their map doesn't show that creek, but it does show Swan lake, and Swan lake is higher than that creek.

How far is it to the river?

Two miles from the river to the flat. The dam would raise thunder with me. They say it would overflow only once in nine years, but that's the best land I've got. And that's the way with all the land along the river that would be flooded if the dam is constructed. You have been along that road. You know how every season those bottoms are just one great sea of corn tassels.

Is the dam going in?

I haven't heard much about it lately, but if it does it will be disastrous.

1940 MR. AND MRS. SAMUEL R. LININGER.

Special to The Gazette.

NORTH LIBERTY — Mr. and Mrs. Samuel R. Lininger will quietly observe their fiftieth wedding anniversary Tuesday, at their farm home, three and one-half miles west of North Liberty, where they have lived their entire half century of married life.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Lininger were born and reared in this part of Johnson county, of which their parents were also long time residents. Mrs. Lininger, as Frankie Denter, was born Oct. 27, 1871, and Mr. Lininger was born Nov. 2, 1863. They were married Oct. 8, 1890, by his grandfather, the Rev. Jacob Lininger, at his home near North Liberty.

During the five decades they have been one of the community's respected couples. They live in their well kept home on their farm of 120 acres which they bought, paid for and maintained with the honest efforts of true pioneers. This homestead had been owned by Mr. Lininger's father and grandfather, among the county's early settlers.

Mr. Lininger, now almost 77, is not only the oldest of his family kinsfolk living, but also the oldest resident in Madison township.

They have a daughter, Mrs. Floyd Myers, who resides in North Liberty, and two granddaughters, Mrs. Harold McGinnis of Coralville and Mrs. Edward W. Thomas of near Iowa City.

Announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Elsie Mae Crutchley of near Alburnett to Mr. Lloyd Bowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bowman of North Liberty, has been made by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Crutchley. The wedding is planned for April 16. 1-22-41.

Ask $42,895 Damages For Fatal Car Crash Near North Liberty

Special to The Gazette.

IOWA CITY—Damage suits totaling $42,895 were filed in Johnson county district court Thursday against Howard Sentman, named as driver of one of the cars involved in an auto accident near North Liberty, Nov. 9, 1940. The damages are asked in two suits, filed by Elizabeth Peiffer, administratrix of the estate of Paul Peiffer, and Marcella Vittetoe, administratrix of the estate of Edward Vittetoe. 1-25-41.

The plaintiffs charge negligence in driving and claim damages for alleged injuries, which, they claim in their suits, later caused the deaths of Paul Peiffer and Edward Vittetoe. The fatal accident occurred at the intersection of Iowa primary road No. 253 and Johnson county road H, according to the petitions. Elizabeth Peiffer, in her suit, asks $12,895 and the other suit asks $30,000.

The plaintiffs contend that the defendant failed to stop for a stop sign and failed to yield the right-of-way to the vehicle in which Peiffer, a passenger, and Vittetoe, driver, were riding. Peiffer died Nov. 26 and Vittetoe Nov. 10.

Two Cars Collide Near N. Liberty Saturday Afternoon

Ed Vittitoe, 36-year-old Washington, Iowa, farmer, died at 7:45 o'clock Sunday night in University hospital here from internal injuries resulting from the collision of two cars near North Liberty late Saturday afternoon which involved 12 persons, injuring seven others.

Paul Peiffer, 66, one of eight passengers in the car which Vittitoe was driving, was reported in a serious condition this afternoon although a slight improvement was noted, attendants said.

Improved Condition

Driver of the second car, according to authorities, was Howard Sentman, 27, Oxford, who suffered a broken collar bone. He and his wife, 24, whose head was injured and back sprained, were reported in an improved condition in Mercy hospital here this afternoon. Their 19-month-old son, Tommy, suffered a cut lip and several of his front teeth were knocked loose but he was released from the hospital after treatment, attendants said.

Other occupants of the Vittitoe car, which collided with Sentman's at the intersection of highway 153 and a gravel road about a mile west of North Liberty at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, included Eliza-

North Liberty Pioneers

1941, printed

Pioneers of Johnson county, whose names appear on the rolls of North Liberty's prominent first settlers, are numerous. Robert A. and Sarah D. Bane, natives of Rockbridge county, Virginia, emigrated, by wagon, to Illinois. They located in Johnson county, four miles south of the John Gilbert trading post (often referred to in this column) in 1843. In Civil war tales, the family name of Bane has been seen repeatedly, nearly 100 years later.

Jacob Bowman and Margaret Bowman came from the bridegroom's native state, Pennsylvania. His wife, too, was a Pennsylvanian. Among the neighbors were the Stewart, Hackett, Albright, Koser, Bane, Hemphill, Green and Owens families. N. Owens was a leading Mason, and was a pioneer justice of the peace.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Bowman were members of a group of devoted English Lutherans who helped, with Jacob and Martha George, to build the North Liberty English church. The town of North Liberty was laid out by Francis Bowman, and his suggestion that Penn township be so christened in honor of William Penn, was adopted. It was organized February 10, 1846, and originally included the future Madison township.

North Liberty was platted about 70 years ago. The owners of the land on which it was built were Francis and Margaret Bowman and Patrick and Anna Murphy. Doctor Orris built the first house in the new village, and was one of the first postmasters, in the early '80's. Postmaster Harry A. White owned a grocery store and shoe shop in the early days. John Andrle ran a saddle and harness shop. John A. Northrup, operating a smithy; and A. H. Statler, a wagon shop owner. An early saw and feedmill industry was that of Jacob George and John Anderle.

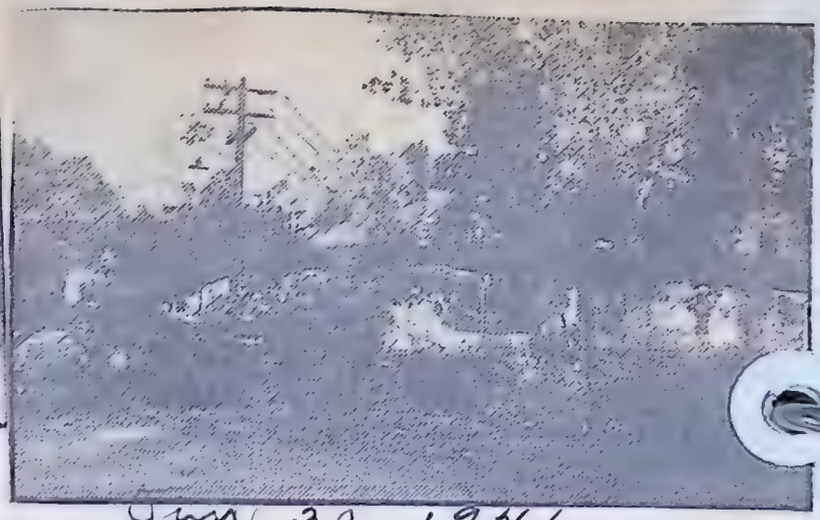
The roster of the first board of trustees in the township is given as follows: Jacob H. Alt, Alonzo C. Dennison, and Stephen Maynard. (The district known as "North Bend" or "Big Bottom" was first settled by John Gaylor (otherwise Gailer), in 1838, and three Dennisons, Joseph, George, and Alonzo C., were the next to arrive, probably). The charter clerk of the township was John Alt, and the first treasurer, John Wilson. The first assessor was elected in 1854, and the previous assessing was done by the justice of the peace.

In an ancient log school house, whose timbers had been hewed by pioneers eager to give their children the essential "Three R's," the first session of the Penn trustees was held. Benjamin Horner and Martha Bowman were the first teachers. The building was razed in 1843, after giving varied service, other than that pertaining to "Readin', 'Ritin', and 'Rithmetic." The first white child born in the township was G. Dennison.

The first two wed were Nathaniel Scales and Nancy Crozier (August 30, 1842). Dr. William Crawford was the first physician. One of the oldest of the county's pioneers is Samuel R. Bane, aged 94, who lives at North Liberty.

Jimmie Bowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bowman, route No. 1, was one year old April 21. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Moore of Coralville and Mrs. Laurena Bowman of North Liberty. (Photo by Greene).

HOOVER BIRTHPLACE GROUNDS FLOODED—The Herbert Hoover birthplace grounds at West Branch were covered with water on the south and west sides following Monday's storm. A footbridge and a retaining wall were under water as the Wapsinonoc creek went on a rampage.



MANY TREES DOWN—Streets were blocked in Marengo by fallen trees after the wind storm. Marengo was hardest hit of any of the towns in the storm area.

Aftermath of the Storm In North Liberty

Many trees were uprooted when the high wind struck the North Liberty vicinity. A large apple tree was blown down in front of the home of M. N. Peffer. (Press-Citizen Photo).

WIND BLAST CRUMPLES TWO OF WMT'S TRANSMITTER TOWERS—Here is part of the wreckage of the two square 412-foot towers of radio station WMT near highway 13 just northeast of Marion. All-night work by the entire engineering staff under the direction of Chief Engineer Charles Quenton, put WMT back on the air Friday morning using the third tower, a triangular one which did not collapse, and a mass of hastily mustered emergency equipment.

The side-splitting circus clown with his ludicrous make-up —his impossible mouth, his fantastic costume and his elongated, flapping shoes—is no novelty to Richard, Patricia Ann and Jean Kriel (seven, five and four-year-olds, respectively), for they have one right in the family! He is their dad, Lowell Kriel, who has been a professional clown for the last five years, and who has just returned to Iowa City after finishing a season with the Cole Brothers circus.

You can't kid Lowell Kriel by calling him a clown: that's his business! 1941

Clowning, like any other phase of circus life, is pretty strenuous, says Mr. Kriel. And not only that: it keeps a clown busy during the winter thinking up the routines he might use during the season ahead. New ideas are at a premium here, as in any other business, and, naturally, the performer who can draw the most laughs with his crazy antics is the man who can command the highest salary. But it is impossible to predict how any one stunt will be received, and there can be discouragement and heartbreak when a "sure-fire" idea backfires and has to be discarded in favor of one of the tried and trusted routines.

July

Mr. Kriel, a graduate of Iowa City high school, had some experience with a small traveling theatrical group, but in serving as the outfit's advertising clown, he discovered that he enjoyed that type of activity far more than working on the stage—so he became a clown. His wife, a former Marengo girl, is a ballet dancer, and when the Kriels are on tour with a circus they like to take the children along. Their local address is 1000 South Orchard street.

The life of a circus clown is so demanding, says Mr. Kriel, that sometimes he doesn't even have a chance to see the town where the show is playing. And in an emergency, of course, the clown has to fall to and work like everybody else. He can recall several occasions when he had to pitch in—oversize shoes, voluminous costume and all—to help pound stakes to keep the "big top" from collapsing in a sudden wind storm.

At home now, Mr. Kriel will give "free act" performances at fairs and celebrations in eastern Iowa throughout the remainder of the summer season.

Irma Zahradnik, Lawrence Bowman Marry Wednesday

Aug. 20 - 1941

Miss Irma Zahradnik, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Zahradnik, 1721 Second street SW, and Lawrence Bowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bowman of Tiffin, were married at 2 p.m. Wednesday in the First Evangelical church. The Rev. George A. Stauffacher, pastor, performed the ceremony and altar decorations were gladiolus, asters, palms and candelabra.

The bride wore a princess styled gown of all-over embroidered starched chiffon with a high neckline, short puffed sleeves and a full-gored skirt tapering into a modified junior train. Her sheer double-tiered illusion veil fell to fingertip length from a crown of seed pearls and she wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. Her bouquet was of Johanna Hill roses and white gladiolus.

Frances Coufal, the bride's cousin, was maid of honor, wearing faille taffeta of a salmon color with sweetheart neckline and puffed sleeves. Her bouffant skirt was gathered on the drop waistline of the fitted bodice and she carried a colonial bouquet of gladiolus, pompon asters and Johanna Hill roses.

The Misses Bernice Dvorak and Florentine Lustick, bridesmaids, wore turquoise gowns styled like that of the maid of honor and carried colonial bouquets of gladiolus, asters and yellow roses. Their tiny colonial hats matched their dresses.

Karen Koss, the flower girl, wore a floor length white gown styled like that of the bride and carried a colonial bouquet. Merle Coufal was ring bearer. Dean Bowman, the bridegroom's cousin, was best man and ushers were Donald Witousek and Richard Louvar.

At the dinner which was served immediately after the ceremony at C.S.P.S. hall, 120 guests were present. The serving table was centered with a three-tiered cake topped by miniature figures of a bride and bridegroom. Jacob Koser Killed By Interurban

Sept 8 1942

Funeral services for Jacob Koser, 87, North Liberty resident who was killed at 5:28 o'clock Tuesday night when struck by a north-bound Cedar Rapids and Iowa City interurban one mile and a half south of North Liberty, will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the North Liberty Methodist church, with the Rev. Lloyd Tennant in charge. Burial will be in the Ridgewood cemetery north of North Liberty.

County Coroner George D. Callahan termed the death "accidental."

Mr. Koser had been working at his farm south of North Liberty and was on his way home when the accident occurred. Mr. Koser started to cross the tracks, saw he could not make it and turned back. He was struck on the left side.

Coroner Callahan said that evidently Mr. Koser went out to stop the interurban to get a ride. The accident occurred at Stewart's crossing.

Mr. Koser was born March 23, 1855, near North Liberty, a pioneer resident of that community.

He was married to Effie Zeller April 20, 1880, in the home of the bride's parents in North Liberty. Mr. and Mrs. Koser would have celebrated their 62nd wedding anniversary April 20.

Surviving are his widow; one daughter, Mrs. Raymond Zeller of Muscatine; one brother, Martin G. Koser of Iowa City; two nephews, Lee D. and George D. Koser, both of Iowa City; one niece, Mary G. Vollmer of Iowa City; three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The body is at Beckman's.

HARD FREEZE IS PREDICTED FOR TONIGHT

9-25-1942

Friday's Snow Is First In Records Dating Back To 1896 For City

Iowa City's first September snow in recorded weather history fell here Friday afternoon — and today the weatherman held out the possibility of more of the same.

An examination of the local records today disclosed that no snow has fallen this early since the records were first kept, starting in 1896. And chances are that the no-September-snow mark extends back to years prior to that time.

For Iowa City the weatherman says: "Cold and windy with showers or snow flurries this afternoon; colder with light snow tonight; lowest temperature tonight: Iowa City 25. Continued cold Sunday forenoon."

The weather bureau today forecast a hard freeze for some sections of Iowa tonight. Lowest temperature will be about 20 degrees along the northern border of the state, the bureau said.

SNOW WHITENS GROUND

Enough snow fell in Iowa City Friday afternoon to whiten the ground in some parts of town. Weird clouds of cold steam were rising from the Iowa river at 5 o'clock Friday when multiple and indistinct numbers of snowflakes melted into the dark water. Windshields of cars coming in from highways No. 6 and 218 were coated with slush and ice, it was also observed.

Two inches of snow fell Friday at Iowa Falls, heaviest snowfall in the state. Estherville had an inch and a half, and Albia one inch. Three-tenths of an inch fell in Des Moines.

Precipitation in Iowa City was .63 inches.

It also was the first time in the history of the weather bureau that snow has fallen in Des Moines in September.

Highest temperature in the state Friday was 49 degrees at Decorah and Fort Dodge. Low of the night was 29 at Forest City.

ELEANOR COLONY IS MARRIED SATURDAY

Weds Hadley P. Brewer At North Liberty

10-10-1942

Before an altar of vari-colored autumn leaves and chrysanthe- mums, Miss Eleanor Maye Colony, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Moreland Colony of near North Liberty, and Mr. Hadley P. Brewer, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Brewer of Tripoli, exchanged nuptial vows at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Metho- dist church at North Liberty. The Rev. Lloyd Tennant read the dou- ble ring service in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends.

Preceding the ceremony, Miss Mary Jane Gordon sang "At Dawn- ing" and "I Love You Truly", ac- companied at the piano by Miss Joyce Gordon. Mrs. Frank Colony played the wedding processional.

Gowned in white satin, the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her dress was fashioned with high neckline and long sleeves, pointed at the wrist. The skirt ex- tended into a junior train. Her fingertip veil was that worn six years ago by her aunt, Mrs. Paul Colony. Chrysanthemums formed her arm bouquet.

The Misses Rosemary Brewer of Burlington and Roberta Brewer of Rock Rapids, sisters of the bride- groom, were bridesmaids, wearing floor length gowns of rose taffeta and robin egg blue taffeta, respec- tively. They carried arm bouquets of white chrysanthemums.

Mr. Eugene Colony, uncle of the bride, served as best man, and ush ers were Messrs. Frank and Mar- ion Colony, brothers of the bride, and Messrs. Robert and Richard Young.

The bride's mother chose a black crepe romaine frock, while Mrs. Brewer wore a dress of military blue crepe. Both mothers had cor- sages of bronze and orange chrys- anthemums and autumn leaves.

Covers were laid for 125 guests at a luncheon served after the cere- mony in the church parlors by the Women's Society of Christian Ser- vice. A three-tiered wedding cake decorated in pink and white and topped with a miniature bridal cou- ple centered the bride's table, which was also adorned with African vio- lets, tuberoses and chrysanthe- mums arranged by the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Colony.

Mrs. Brewer is a graduate of University high school and for three years attended the University of Iowa, where she was affiliated with Kappa Phi, Tau Gamma and the Wesley Players. She also at- tended Iowa State Teachers college at Cedar Falls and taught rural school in Johnson county for one year.

Mr. Brewer is a graduate of

Funeral Services Friday For North Liberty Woman Who Shot Herself Tuesday

Oct. 10-24-1944

Funeral services will be held in the Oathout funeral chapel Friday at 2 p. m. for Rosie Kloubec, 33, of North Liberty, who shot herself through the heart with a .22 single shot rifle near noon Tuesday.

Her body was discovered by her brother, Anton, who climbed a ladder from the outside of the house and entered her bedroom through a window after he heard the shot. The door to her room had been locked.

According to Sheriff Preston Koser, Miss Kloubec sat on the edge of a bed and died immediately upon firing the shot. Motive given for the suicide was ill health, as she had recently had two operations.

She resided four miles northwest of North Liberty with her mother, two sisters and her brother. She was born December 4, 1910, in Johnson county, the daughter of Joseph and Antonie Kloubec, and resided in this vicinity her entire life.

Survivors are her mother; three sisters, Mrs. Emma Krehmar, of Fairfax, Antoinette and Agnes, at home; and three brothers, Joseph and Fred, of Cedar Rapids, and Anton, at home. Her father died in 1914.

The Rev. R. M. Hudson, pastor of the North Bend Church of God, will officiate at the funeral. Burial will be in the North Liberty cemetery.
